LONDON (AP)—The U.S. 3rd Army's attack toward the Rhine blossomed into a roaring offensive with heavy bomber support today as armor and infantry rolled forward on both sides of Metz, and counted the capture of 25 towns and a gain of six miles for the two-day drive.

The attack was going forward at least four places along a 50-mile front, while gains of the U.S. 7th Army stretched the activity an additional 30 miles to the south.

Allies On Threshold of Reich;
Churchill Asks Renewed Effort

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill warned today that the "full exertions" of Britain, the United States and Russia will be needed to defeat Germany. "This military antagonist at last beaten back to his own lair," Britain's dominant thought was to end the "frightful slaughter and devastation" in Europe within the shortest possible time, he said at the Lord Mayor's luncheon at the Mansion House.

"It is high time we had another triple conference" of himself, President Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin, the Prime Minister told a distinguished audience.

He hailed the operation to clear the Scheldt estuary, carried out by armies under Field Marshal Montgomery's command, adding that the hard-fought battle which opened the port of Antwerp had cost heavily British and Canadian casualties.

Soon Will Move Into Germany

He said the victory in the Netherlands had opened the Scheldt River and "will very shortly place the great port of Antwerp at the disposal of the northern flank which will presently move into Germany for the final struggle."

"Now we stand on the threshold of Germany and it will take the full exertions of the three great powers, every scrap of strength they can give, to crush down the desperate resistance which we must expect from the military antagonist at last beaten back to his own lair."

He said a Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin meeting "might easily bridge the sufferings of mankind and stop the fearful process of destruction which is now ravaging the earth."

"The prospects of such a meeting," Mr. Churchill said, "have been vastly improved by the results of the presidential election in the United States."

Pausing while the audience applauded, Mr. Churchill added: "And for which we waited so breathlessly on Tuesday last."

Hard to Remember When Struggle Began

The Prime Minister said: "It is hard to remember how long ago this war began. One can never be quite sure whether it has lasted a flash or an age."

Following the colorful ceremony in which the new Lord Mayor, Sir Frank Alexander, received his guests, Mr. Churchill said: "When I look back over these warlike years, I cannot help feeling that time is an inaccurate and even a capricious measure of the duration of it. At one time, it seemed so long; at others, so short."

Turning to the United States election: "When I was here last year I appealed to the British and American public to be very careful that election year did not in any way ruffle the goodwill that

Russians Open Danube Drive
Nazis Announce

LONDON (CP)—The German high command said today the Russians had crossed the Danube at Apatin in northern Yugoslavia 15 miles south of the Hungarian border and 125 miles south of Budapest, and a "battle" is still raging there.

The broadcast communique said the Russians had penetrated that part of Apatin which is on the west bank.

The Red Army had been reported mauling men and materials along the eastern front for "decisive action against the vital centres of Germany" promised this week by Premier Stalin.

The German communique said also German forces had evacuated the Strumica valley in southern Yugoslavia "according to plan."

The withdrawal apparently was a continuation of the retreat from Greece. The Strumica is a passageway through the mountains between Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

The Germans also claimed in the broadcast communique they had repulsed Allied forces which landed on Melos Island off the Greek southeast coast "after many days of hard fighting." The Nazis had reported the landing several days ago.

CALM BEFORE STORM

A brief Soviet communique dismissed developments by noting "no essential changes at the front," but the German radio, in a potent tone, described the comparative quiet as "the calm before the storm."

Besieged and strife-torn Budapest was considered the most likely target for a fresh and heavier assault. The Berlin radio reported new concentrations of Soviet tanks in the outskirts of the Hungarian capital.

The Russian drive on the city over the plains from the Tisza River slowed perceptibly two days ago in the face of desperate German and Hungarian resistance and heavy rains which interfered with operations, southeast of the capital.

Continental broadcasts told of open revolt inside Budapest. The Paris radio said street fighting took place in Pest on the east bank of the Danube and declared some Hungarian soldiers and workers had gone over to Russian forces. The Brussels radio quoted neutral sources as reporting Soviet artillery had been installed in Pest.

Moscow has at no time, however, confirmed that Soviet troops are inside the capital.

Memory Blank

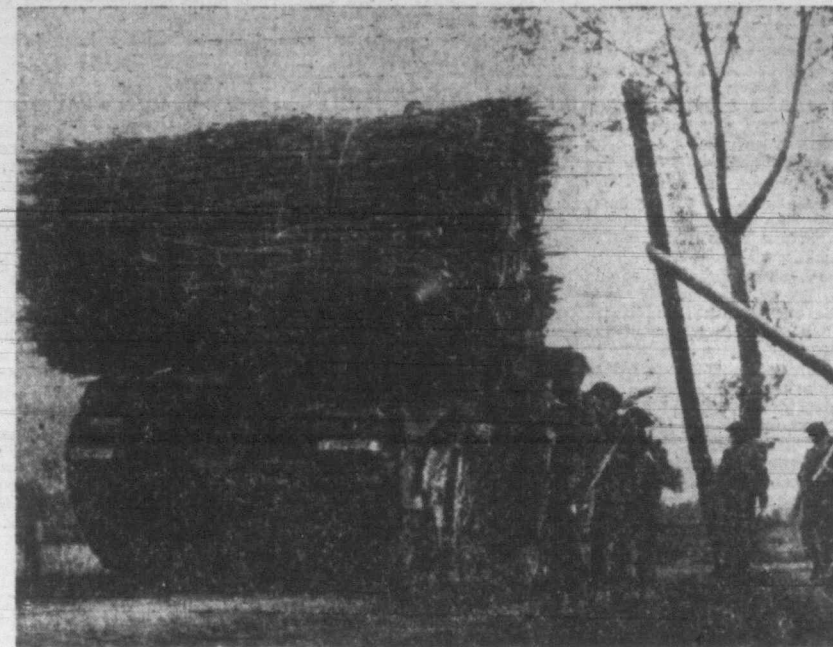

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alexander Rusan testified in B.C. Supreme Court here today he could remember nothing about the fatal shooting of his wife and her friend, Mrs. Jack Preston, here July 7. Rusan is charged with the murder in connection with both deaths and the present trial is on a charge of killing his wife.

Rusan also testified while being questioned by his counsel, Gordon Wismer, that he could not remember writing a letter to his wife dated July 7 in which it was said that she and Mrs. Preston "should die like dogs."

Flight of Goebbels' Cash

LONDON (CP)—An intermediary acting for German Propaganda Minister Goebbels has opened an account of $1,850,000 in a Buenos Aires bank, the Morocco radio, quoting neutral sources, said today.

Edging Forward in Holland

Walcheren Island, at the mouth of the Schelde River, has been cleared by British and Canadian troops of all German resistance except a few minor pockets. This picture shows how the advance has been carried out in part on different sectors in Holland. The British tank, an Avre, was carrying a fascine bundle. These bundles are thrown into ditches so the tanks can pass quickly and safely across.

Island Passes Loan Quota;
Out to Make New Record

With every unit on Vancouver Island having over-subscribed its quota on the 7th Victory Loan drive, the island now has 103.2 per cent of objective. It was reported by officials today. The island has passed its quota by $344,150, bringing total subscriptions to $10,029,150.

Greater Victoria passed its objective of $6,180,000 Wednesday night and immediately raised its objective to $7,000,000 with the new slogan "Seven Million for the Seventh Loan."

Courtenay-Comox, in a last-minute spurt brought its subscriptions up from 88 per cent to 103.2 per cent within the 24-hour period. Officials there say that instead of "lagging," they are now "bragging."

Saanich, Esquimalt rural and Gulf Islands, the area surrounding urban Greater Victoria, has conducted an outstanding campaign, officials stated as the district reported subscriptions of $863,600, or 101 per cent of quota.

The sales force covered the area by boat, automobile, logging, speeder, horseback and bicycle. Sooke area reached its $65,000 objective by the second day of the loan and now flies a second pennant with $82,300, or 126 per cent. Galliano Island also flies two pennants, having raised $9,400. North Saanich now has $164,000 subscribed on a quota of $122,000. Loan officials express themselves as highly pleased with the co-operation of Vancouver Island residents in making the loan an early success, and are confident that final figures will show a considerable over-subscription.

Loan workers of the Saanich, Esquimalt rural, Gulf Islands division have reported that they are raising their objective by $100,000, and hope to raise a total of $955,000 by the end of the campaign Saturday.

Figures for the Island are as follows:

	Quota	Subscribed	Per Cent
Greater Victoria	$6,180,000	$6,304,150	102
Saanich, Esquimalt Rural and Gulf Islands	885,000	1,032,000	117
Courtenay-Comox	725,000	750,000	103.2
Nanaimo	695,000	718,200	103
Alberni-West	585,000	590,200	101
Coast	150,000	202,350	135
Lady Smith	—	—	—
Total	$9,675,000	$10,029,150	103.2

Parksville-Qualicum, sub-unit of Nanaimo, has reported reaching 175 per cent of quota to qualify for a third honor pennant. Employees of Alberni Pacific Lumber Co. mill at Port Alberni reached their $45,000 objective with 15 per cent of six months' payroll invested. Employees of Sproat Lake sawmills have also attained their quota.

Victoria Tug Co. obtained 200 per cent of its objective.

Other payroll groups going over the top include Sweeney Cooperage Ltd., Dowell's Pacific Transfer Co. Ltd., Sprott-Shaw Business Institute Ltd., G. B. Murdie Ltd., Y.W.C.A.

Jap Spearhead Nears Liuchow

CHUNGKING (AP)—Japanese troops closed in today on Liuchow with the Chinese high command indicating one enemy spearhead was only 15 miles from that key point in the defenses of south China.

A Tokyo broadcast said the Japanese were closing in on points barely nine miles from Liuchow, and also announced a general offensive against Kweilin, employing tanks, planes and infantry.

Chinese military authorities asserted the Japanese had used "large quantities" of poison gas at Kweilin, capital of Kwangsi province.

The attempt failed to dislodge the defenders, "who held their positions grimly," the authorities said.

Japanese columns continued their advance on Liuchow in southern Kwangsi province from the east and south, but the Chinese repelled four assaults on their positions astride the Hunan-Kwangsi railway, 36 miles to the northeast, the high command said.

Belgian Parliament Wildly Welcomes
Allied War Chiefs

By ROGER D. GREENE

BRUSSELS (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower told the Belgian parliament today the Allies were fighting "an enemy who understands only one thing—force—and we intend to apply force to the utmost."

The Allied supreme commander received a tumultuous ovation as he entered the packed chamber of deputies to address both Houses.

He was accompanied by top Allied army, navy and air force commanders, including Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder, Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsay, Air Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham, Lt. Gen. W. B. Smith, Maj. Gen. S. W. E. J. Erskine and Maj. Gen. F. W. de Guinang.

"We are sensible of sacrifices you have made," Gen. Eisenhower said, "and as far as possible, consistent with military operations, I pledge that you will get everything we can bring you. I only ask that you understand we are doing our best."

The general's promise of aid was interpreted as indicating his concern over the current shortage of civilian supplies in Belgium, where the bulk of the people face the prospect of a heatless and hungry winter.

ROOSEVELT CHEERED

The ornate chamber was crowded to the top tier of its white columned balconies and it resounded with spontaneous cheers at the mention of President Roosevelt's re-election.

"The fact that the American people have elected him to a fourth term as head of the United States is definite proof the country will support him in the task of international reconstruction," said Frans Van Cauwelaert, president of the Chamber of Deputies.

Premier Hubert Pierlot stressed the long period of suffering of the Belgian people under German occupation and, in a voice ringing with emotion, said to Gen. Eisenhower:

"General, you launched the greatest battle of all times and you won it. You conquered in three weeks what was occupied by the enemy during 52 months. Belgium, for the largest part, was liberated in eight days."

Robert Gillon, president of the Belgian Senate, emphasized German barbarism in his speech of welcome, declaring the Nazi overlords were "the most frightful oppressors who tried to impose on us the new order which ignored human dignity and individual liberty."

Bitter Fighting For Approach To Moerdike Bridge

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON (AP)—The U.S. 3rd Army's attack towards the Rhine was doubled today as Lt. Gen. Patton threw in three more divisions and extended the drive to both sides of Metz.

German radio commentators said the U.S. 3rd Army commander had signaled the prelude to "the big offensive" with an earth-shaking barrage in an effort "to burst open the historical gate to the Palatinate which was chosen by Napoleon as the marching route for his battalions and regiments."

Meanwhile Polish forces of the 1st Canadian Army fought savagely inside breached defenses against a suicide German garrison holding the southern approaches to the Moerdike bridges across the Hojlandsche Diep.

(A Reuter field dispatch said German resistance collapsed after the concrete defenses were breached.)

"There has been bitter fighting for the Moerdike Bridge approaches," said the communique. "We penetrated the concrete defenses and made some advance in the face of fierce opposition."

Ned Nordness, Associated Press war correspondent in Holland, reported almost complete lack of activity on the Netherlands front.

MOP UP WALCHEREN

Mopping up by British troops of the 1st Canadian Army continued on Walcheren Island, with the Germans reported pocketed on two villages north of fallen Middelburg.

Front-line dispatches said Gen. Patton sent two divisions into action north of fort-ringed Metz, and another to join the three which attacked south of the city on a 25-mile front Wednesday, and gained up to three miles.

At least 16 villages were captured in the combined advance of the 3rd and 7th Armies. Several of the villages had been previously captured, however, and relinquished in the face of counterattacks.

South of Metz, the attack spread all the way from Chemul, 10 miles south of Metz and four miles east of the Moselle, to the Chateau-Salins area, where infantry hammered a mile-deep wedge north of the Rhine-Marne canal at a point 20 miles east of Nancy, and an equal distance west of Sarrebourg.

The Germans said the "Americans are making feverish preparations for a new offensive in the Aachen region" also and were seeking to eliminate German artillery observation posts by dropping smoke canisters on them. Artillery fire was intensified on both sides, the Germans said.

In Holland where the first snow of the season fell last night, Field Marshal Montgomery's 21st Army group had seized all of Walcheren Island at the mouth of the Schelde except a tiny pocket around the villages of Buttinge and St. Laurens, two miles north, west of Middelburg. This pocket was isolated from the coast.

Legion Asks Gov't.
To Exercise Mandate

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Council of the Canadian Legion, in a brief presented to Prime Minister King, said today the government should act on the mandate of the 1942 manpower plebiscite and use its authority to send all fully-trained Home Defence Army personnel overseas immediately as essential reinforcements.

The Legion delegation, headed by Alex. Walker, Dominion president, said there was bitterness in Canada "because of a tragic waste of manpower when the issues of civilization are at stake—bitterness because the courage and sacrifice of our men overseas are not being matched with corresponding sacrifice, courage and self-forgetfulness at home."

Victory Loan Nears Quota With $1,119,576,500 Raised

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians Wednesday purchased $69,294,850 in Victory Bonds to bring the total of the 7th Loan to $1,119,576,500 in the final week of the campaign which has an objective of $1,300,000,000.

The total announced today is approximately $46,000,000 ahead of the total reached on the corresponding day in the 6th Loan, in which the final figure was $1,400,000,000.

Individual purchasers Wednesday recorded one of their biggest days in the present drive with their purchases amounting to $38,084,800, moving the cumulative total for individual purchases up to $513,750,350.

Applications now total 2,032,000 as against 1,960,000 at the same stage of the 6th Loan.

"This can be the biggest Victory Loan Canada has ever had," one official said. "However, we need another 1,000,000 applications to equal the participation in the last loan and it is important that every Canadian who has not yet bought, and every Canadian who can buy an extra bond, should sign his application at once. There is no question that the minimum objective will be reached. The aim now should be to go well beyond the mark of the 6th Victory Loan, which was somewhat in excess of $1,400,000,000."

British Columbia-Yukon soared over the top Wednesday as public investments reached $55,592,300 on an objective of $54,800,000 from general canvass and armed forces. The overall total of $130,000,000 was also topped with sales in all categories amounting to $131,607,550.

Vancouver reported 151,517 applications for $18,018,800. Alberta had 96.5 per cent of quota with total overall sales of $41,954,850. Saskatchewan's purchases totaled $35,626,100 today, next province having exceeded its objective of $35,500,000 Wednesday to share honors with British Columbia and Nova Scotia in going over the top.

Leaders in B.C. were: Vancouver 104.85 per cent, New Westminster 104.73 and Victoria 100. Headquarters also announced the combined total of the three armed services has exceeded the

Railway Troops From Canada Help Restore France

By MAURICE DESJARDINS
SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE
(CP) — Canada's railway troops are making things hum in France.

A company of the 1st Canadian Army Railway Operating Group, under Maj. H. T. Alcorn of Melville, Sask., has worked with railway troops of Britain and the U.S. to get things under way.

Maj. Alcorn, formerly with the Canadian National Railways, has had his headquarters in a German shack, brought complete from several miles away. From that office he supervises all work done in the yards, roundhouses and blockhouses of the area.

At a main roundhouse, locomotives are overhauled and serviced by Canadians who formerly worked for the C.N.R. and C.P.R. in Canada.

Some of the Canadians, like Sgt. John James of Vancouver, live in old boxcars, where they claim to have all or—practically all—the comforts of home.

The company includes firemen like Spr. Arnold Fredlund, Calgary, and engineers like Spr. Johnny Layman of Fort William.

Kootenay Candidate
CRANBROOK, B.C. (CP) — John O'Neill of Kimberley will be Liberal candidate in Kootenay East in the coming federal election. He was the unsuccessful Liberal candidate in 1940.

At the convention Wednesday night E. G. Hogarth of Cranbrook was elected president of the Kootenay East Liberal Association.

Terminal Course Plan At College Discussed

Vigorous opposition to establishment at Victoria College of terminal courses—courses which provide one year of study in special subjects as a complete unit and do not lay the groundwork for further university work—was voiced by Trustee Isla Tuck at Wednesday's meeting of the City School Board.

Referring to an outline given by Dr. John M. Ewing, College principal, to the board at a meeting in committee, Trustee Tuck took exception to the proposal, saying she was strongly against interference with the College as it now operates. Dr. Ewing, she said, had spoken as if the courses, including one in secretarial work, were to be organized next June, popularized during the summer by the principal, and put into operation at the opening of the next College year in September.

With a little more encouragement at home and in the school, Trustee Tuck said, students could be encouraged to take their University Entrance examination and carry on with College and University work. A questionnaire submitted to students at College last year had disclosed 95 per cent opposed to terminal courses unless such units could be carried as university credits.

FEELING PINCH
Students who took high school leaving certificates instead of University Entrance examination were already feeling their academic deficiencies, she continued, noting several had required extra tuition in order to take advantage of training in other fields.

Trustee W. A. Bayliss said he thought terminal courses would be of value to boys wishing to secure a little more schooling than they received at high school before taking apprenticeships. They might help boys who intended to go into industry, he felt.

Trustee Margaret D. Christie voiced the same argument for girls who wanted a little more than high school education.

Real secretaries, said Trustee Tuck, need college training.

Trustee F. G. Mulliner said opposition to terminal courses implied a backing of modern trends. Those who wanted an extra polish through such courses should be in a position to get it.

Daylight Air Blitz On Reich Resumed By Big Squadrons

LONDON (CP) — A small force of R.A.F. Mosquitoes raided Hannover and other targets in western Germany Wednesday night without loss, the Air Ministry announced, and early today hundreds of Allied planes thundered out for what appeared to be a resumption of the daylight bombardment of Germany.

By mid-morning several German radio stations, including Cologne, had gone off the air.

A damaging double-barreled assault was made on two German synthetic oil plants Wednesday at Mersburg and Homberg at a cost of six bombers, five U.S. and one British.

Two of about a dozen jet-propelled enemy fighters were shot down.

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER
One R.A.F. fighter was lost and 42 U.S. fighters failed to return, but most of them were reported to have landed in France because of the weather.

R.A.F. rocket-firing Typhoons Wednesday blew up a German headquarters building near the Reichswald Forest, southeast of Nijmegen.

Netherlands-based Canadian fighter-bombers, flying more than 150 sorties Wednesday despite unfavorable weather, continued their rail-cutting attacks and were credited with at least 13 cuts in enemy railway lines.

An R.C.A.F. communiqué said armed reconnaissance patrols and photographic and tactical reconnaissance missions made up the balance of the day's operations.

They Pay Off

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The film colony was its old uninhibited self Wednesday as freak election bets were paid off. Red-headed Ann Sheridan paraded through the town wearing a ragged costume and burnt-cork make-up, after betting on Governor Dewey with make-up man Perc Westmore. Yvonne de Carlo lost an unspecified bet to Martha O'Driscoll and paid off by kissing the first 50 servicemen she met on the street.

Round Up Deserters

ROME (AP) — Military police have rounded up two gangs, made up in part of deserters from United States and Canadian units and the French Foreign Legion, believed responsible for a wave of holdups and slayings in Rome and Naples, officials announced today.

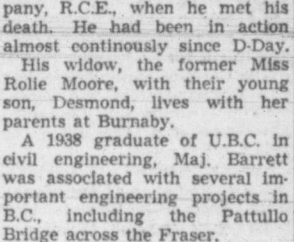

With Our Servicemen Killed in Action

Maj. Desmond Barrett, R.C.E., was killed in action in Holland, Nov. 2, his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Barrett, 1370 Beach Drive, have been officially advised. Maj. Barrett enlisted in the army immediately following the outbreak of war, proceeded overseas as a lieutenant and took part in the commando raid on Spitzbergen. After 18 months' service overseas he returned to Canada and for a year was on staff work at Ottawa. Before going overseas for the second time, Maj. Barrett took a special course at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., of which he was a graduate. He was in command of a field company, R.C.E., when he met his death. He had been in action almost continuously since D-Day.

His widow, the former Miss Rolfe Moore, with their young son, Desmond, lives with her parents at Burnaby.

Trustees Decline To Let Mulliner Quit

Francis G. Mulliner's resignation from the city school board, which would have taken effect at the end of the year, was rejected by fellow trustees at Wednesday night's meeting and withdrawn at their insistence.

His letter, announcing his intention of withdrawing from school board activities in view of his plan to run for the city council, expressed appreciation of the enjoyable associations he had made on the board.

Trustee Austin Curtis, chairman, while appreciating the trustee's position, asked him to reconsider in view of the loss of Trustee Christie, who retires at the end of the year, and the possible changes on the board arising from the election. It was desirable, the chairman said, that continuity be maintained in the board's work. It was also desirable that Victoria should enjoy the prestige Mr. Mulliner gave the board as vice-president of the B.C. Trustees' Association, he said.

Trustee Isla Tuck moved to reject the resignation notice and her motion carried.

Trustee Curtis expressed the board's regrets over Mrs. Christie's decision to leave at the end of the year.

A Benn's offer to purchase the school board-owned cottage on Oswego and Simcoe was declined on the grounds the board had no authority to sell it.

Board members were invited to the Sir James Douglas Parent-Teacher Association fall bazaar on Wednesday, Nov. 22, in the school auditorium.

The finance committee was asked to purchase a piano at a price of not more than $150 to facilitate band practices in the Junior High band room. A concert is planned by the Schools' Band in February or March.

Trustees Mulliner, Tuck and Bertha Parsons were appointed a special committee to survey city elementary schools with a view to establishing a hot cocoa or soup luncheon service similar to that operated at Quadra. A report on school lunches indicated the standard reasonably good, but deficient in calcium, iron and vitamins B, A and D. More balanced diets will be emphasized in health instruction programs.

Re-establishment of the larger grant for Halloween parties in schools will be sought from the city.

The six best essays in a recent provincial drama essay contest sponsored by the school and community drama branch of the Department of Education came from Victoria High, which won the Times Shield, the board was

5 Britons Killed In Robomb Attack

LONDON (CP) — At least five persons were killed and scores injured Wednesday night when flying bombs crashed in residential areas in southern England.

London was alerted for the first time in three days.

A number of the missiles were shot down over the east coast in a fierce sky display.

The German radio — which Wednesday proclaimed that the Nazis' new "V-2" rocket projectile already has been launched against London — said today that attacks with this weapon will be stepped up. Other secret weapons of great explosive power also will be unleashed, a Berlin broadcast declared.

Doukhobor Elders Renounce Nudism

CRESTOVA, B.C. (CP) — Use of nudism among the Sons of Freedom, radical Doukhobor sect, as a weapon to impress Doukhobor demands on the outside world is renounced by elders of the sect in a declaration made public Wednesday.

"We announced unto all the world that the weapon of nudism was effective in us only up to the year 1944," the Doukhobors said in the document which was signed "Elders of the Spiritual Community of Christ, Krestova, B.C."

Decision that nudism had failed as a protest against authorities was reached by the 24 elders only "after grave conflict and struggle," the declaration continued.

It has been unanimously resolved that nudism among us... shall not be further effected toward the outward world, but only as a method of revivification of the free spirit of Christ within ourselves—as a means for the conquest of the spirit over flesh and the extirpation of the principle of private ownership."

Nudism was first authorized by the Doukhobors as a protest against authority in 1903 in Saskatchewan when authorities attempted to have them naturalized.

Judgment Reserved On B.C.E.R. Appeal

OTTAWA (CP) — The National War Labor Board Wednesday reserved judgment on a double appeal against a British Columbia War Labor Board decision affecting some 2,500 employees of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co.

The B.C. board on an application by the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees (A.F.L.), ordered an increase of 4½ cents an hour to the B.C. Electric workers. Present rates for journeymen are from 80 to 86 cents an hour and for operators of one-man cars 80½ cents.

The company appealed against the increase, while the union appealed to have its original demands of increases of from 16 to 29 cents an hour made effective and a number of changes in working conditions introduced.

A point of interest to Victorians was the proposal to bring several of the men driving buses on the Esquimalt route into the wage agreement. This was presented at the Ottawa hearing, as also the request for higher wages for mechanics and trackmen, as well as for operators.

Sask. to Revive Big Power Project

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — Resources Minister J. L. Phelps of Saskatchewan has announced a 13-year-old survey of a projected $18,000,000 hydro undertaking at Fort-a-la-Corne on the Saskatchewan River would be brought up to date, in line with government plans to make cheaper power available in the province, to encourage industrial development and facilitate extension of rural electrification.

He told representatives of 19 Saskatchewan municipalities Wednesday the revision would be made by H. G. Acres, Niagara Falls, Ont., hydroelectric engineer, who conducted the original survey in 1931. Mr. Acres reported then that development of the 125,000-horsepower project 40 miles east of here was "economically and physically feasible."

The meeting heard a report by J. M. Taylor, Saskatoon City electrical engineer, who declared the project would confer an immediate benefit on Saskatchewan in cheaper power only if the government bore a third of the cost, with the remaining two-thirds being financed by 3 per cent debentures. His report was read by A. Leslie, Saskatoon City commissioner.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The war military operations are developing in Europe it looks as though the Allies are getting set for simultaneous offensives in both west and east—a squeeze attack calculated to achieve a quick kill through terrific pressure.

Along with the evidences of Gen. Eisenhower's preparations for a big drive, it is reported now that the Russian armies are massing in strategic sectors of their long front. Marshal Stalin meant business when he said last Monday that the Allies had assumed starting positions for an offensive against the cities of Germany, and that country was "on the verge of inevitable catastrophe."

The Soviet armies may strike at several places. A highly important prospect is held out in the Berlin assertion that the Russians are preparing to hurl an attack from their bridgehead on the west bank of the Vistula in southwest Poland, in the sector of the railway cities of Krakow and Tarnow. There the Russian forces standing only about 100 miles from the border of German Silesia, one of the natural routes into Germany.

Building for a big offensive often is comparatively slow and methodical. Gen. Eisenhower for days has been ironing out his front at lumpy spots in preparation for the onslaught. This has accounted for the violent fighting on the U.S. 1st Army front south-east of Aachen in the Hurtgen Forest area.

Highway communications run through there to the neighboring city of Duren and thence to the prized objective of Cologne on the Ruhr.

Fitting into the broad picture is the attack of the U.S. 3rd Army on a wide front in the Metz sector.

Want Canadians To Serve in Pacific With British and U.S.

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion
TORONTO—If, as some reports indicate, professional strategists are worried about whether the Canadian people want their troops to fight in the American or British theatres of the war against Japan, they will be reassured to learn that the public has no definite views one way or the other. If anything, they would prefer to see Canadian troops in both theatres of war.

Indications at present are that British forces will be concentrated in the Burma-Malaya area, while American forces at the outset will be in the western Pacific. To find out whether the average Canadian had any strong feelings as to which one of these theatres should be the scene of Canadian activities, the Canadian Institute asked a representative cross-section of the general public this question:

"If Canada sends some of her fighting men to take part in the war against Japan, would you rather see them fight alongside the British in Burma and Singapore or alongside the Americans in the Philippines?"

The figures below show the national state of mind on this question:

With British	27%
With Americans	26%
With Both	39%
Undecided	8%

While these figures indicate pretty clearly that there is no strong national opinion either way in this issue, which is reported to have been the subject of considerable discussion in official circles, there are some interesting differences in the point of view of various age groups.

For example, of those people interviewed who were over 50 years of age, the tendency to reply "with the British" was much stronger than with those under 30:

Age Groups
	21-29 30-49 50 and Over
With British	25% 24% 35%
With Americans	34% 24% 25%
With Both	31% 44% 35%
Undecided	10% 6% 10%

By the same token, the Institute found that these voters who said they would support the Progressive Conservative Party were more inclined to support Canadian participation with Imperial forces than supporters of either the Liberal or C.C.F. parties.

Is home baking different from commercial baking?
Of course!
That's why you need a home-type flour!

How home-type flour improves all your home baking

Commercial bakers need one type of flour... you need another. Because your home-size recipes, your oven, even your baking powder and shortening are different.

To get perfect results in home baking you need a home-type flour, like Kitchen Craft. It makes your cakes and biscuits lighter, more tender... your pie crusts flakier. Because—

Kitchen Craft is light-bodied: Mixes smoothly and quickly with other home-type ingredients to give fine even texture in all your home-baked foods.

Kitchen Craft is properly milled: Retains desirable moisture in your pastries, cakes and breads in spite of the drier heat of home ovens.

Kitchen Craft is dependably uniform: Absorbs the same amount of water each time—so you can always follow your recipes to the letter.

100 Fliers Involved In Disturbance

CALGARY (AP) — Arrest of an airman who refused to identify himself when checked for improper dress in the men's mess, led to a disturbance Tuesday night at No. 2 Wireless School, R.C.A.F., in which nearly 100 airmen were involved. It was learned.

Group Capt. D. G. Williams, officer commander, who was not present during the disturbance, said later: "Less than 100 men were involved and nobody was injured. The airman was improperly dressed, and when he was checked-up refused to give any identification."

An official inquiry is being held.

Airmen Don't Care For Army Transfers

CALGARY (CP) — Maj. Howard Gairnor, M.C., recruiting officer for M.D. 13, said that physically fit young men in R.C.A.F. ground crews were showing little inclination to transfer to the army for duty overseas.

"This is a surprise to me," Maj. Gairnor said. "They must be aware of the need for reinforcements for the troops overseas and they should do their part as real soldiers."

Several ground crew airmen had made inquiries which might lead to their transfer to the army, he said, but the number was not large.

Airmen discharged from the R.C.A.F. and not voluntarily joining the army are subject to draft call.

Soldier Elected

REGINA (CP) — Maj. Malcolm J. Doble of Payton, Sask., has been elected a member of the Saskatchewan Legislature representing Saskatchewan members of the armed forces in Canada and Newfoundland.

He will be one of three soldier members in the Legislature which has 46 C.C.F. members and five Liberal. There is one seat vacant.

Capt. S. P. Deis, returning officer for the area which does not include Saskatchewan soldiers in Saskatchewan, announced Wednesday the final count gave Maj. Doble 510 votes and Sqdn. Ldr. John A. Young of Perdue, Sask., runner-up, 386. There were 20 candidates.

The soldier vote in Canada was taken about a month ago. Balancing in the two overseas areas—Great Britain and the battle area north of the Mediterranean and the Mediterranean area itself—took place at the same time. The results from overseas are expected to be cable to Regina later this week.

Prairie Battalions Helped Clear Schelde Estuary

By ROSS MUNRO
WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN HOLLAND (CP) — Two prairie infantry battalions, the South Saskatchewan Regiment and the Regina Rifle Regiment, took part in the great battle of the Schelde estuary which led to the opening of Antwerp. It was permitted to disclose today.

The South Saskatchewan Regiment, operated on South Beveland Island, on the north side of the estuary and before that in battles fought north of Antwerp to clear the causeway to Beveland and its approaches.

The Regina riflemen shared in the epic struggle on the Leopold Canal and later took part in attacks from the Breskens area which drove the Germans westward through the Schelde pocket south of the estuary.

It was the Saskatchewanans who made the difficult assault over the ship canal cutting across South Beveland Island in the drive for Walcheren, crossing the waterway at night in canvas and wood boats.

Canadian Soldier Gets Life Sentence

OTTAWA (CP) — Gnr. Leslie Joseph Doyle, 38, of Kingston, Ont., sentenced to be shot to death when found guilty on a charge of murder by a field general court-martial in Italy, has had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment and now is in a Canadian penitentiary. It was learned from Defence Headquarters.

Evidence at the court-martial established that Doyle shot and killed a sergeant of his unit, later killed another sergeant and a gunner and wounded a bombardier so severely that he subsequently died of wounds. Doyle then attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself through the head, but recovered from the wounds, headquarters said.

IMPORTANT GAIN

The successful crossing of this canal was one of the most important jobs in the Beveland offensive. German resistance on the island rapidly disintegrated from then on. Canadians linked up with British forces who had landed on the southeast tip of Beveland and within a few days the island was entirely in our hands.

Before striking west to Beveland the South Saskatchewan boys had been in heavy fighting south of Woensdrecht and Hoogerheide, the towns east of the entrance to the Beveland causeway. In sand dunes and pine groves the regiment fought for five days and the Germans averaged three counterattacks a day against their positions.

Maj. K. A. Williams of Weyburn commanded a company which was in the thick of things most of the time. One night during a melee Williams was captured and was being marched back through the German lines when he made a break for it. Leaping away from his guards he plunged into a ditch and although the Germans scoured the area, firing at everything that moved in the darkness, he evaded them and showed up at battalion headquarters next morning—to the utter surprise of the colonel and everybody else.

THE OFFICIAL SEAL

ALTHOUGH HE WENT INTO CONSIDerable detail, quoting figures which no doubt were both informative and new to many people, the address which Mr. Mac-Kenzie King delivered last night did not go far beyond an official approval of General McNaughton's observations at Arrnprior and Ottawa the other day. The new Minister of National Defence had announced his belief in a continuance of the voluntary system for obtaining reinforcements for overseas; in his opinion, many draftees of the Home Defence army would "go active" once they really understood their position and the obligations it should entail.

The Prime Minister has now underscored this hope with an eloquent appeal for more volunteers to support a volunteer army fighting so magnificently on the various European battlefronts. Since this mode of procedure is to be the policy of the government, and because it coincides with the view of the soldier head of the department responsible for its operation, the general public may be expected to give it its support in the hope that Mr. King and General Mc-Naughton will realize their hopes.

Apart from the government's attitude toward this highly-controversial phase of its war policy, which is now clear, the Prime Minister's statement likewise revealed in simple terms the precise reason for Hon.
J. L. Ralston's resignation from the cabinet.
The former Minister of National Defence had returned from his visit to the Canadian armed forces in the battle zones with the firm conviction that the best safeguard against a possible shortage of Infantry reinforcements for service overseas could be erected only by the adoption of conscription at once. To this plan the majority of the ministry obviously objected. Mr. King discovered that General McNaughton, who was largely responsible for the creation of Canada's unmatched fighting army, still had faith in the voluntary system—or that the possibilities of obtaining the required reinforcements by the right kind of persuasive appeal had not been exhausted.

There the matter rests as far as the government and the Department of National Defence are concerned. Until this policy proves unsuccessful, therefore, and assuming that the reinforcement supply in the meantime is not as serious a problem as has appeared on the surface, the nation's continued war effort will be more effective if reasoned judgment does not abdicate in favor of partisan politics.

GREATER VICTORIA HAS DONE AN excellent job in reaching its 7th Victory Loan quota three days before the books close. On this showing it ought to be safe to predict that the new objective of $7,000, 000 will be reached, perhaps passed, at the finish of business next Saturday night. This achievement speaks volumes in behalf of all concerned—the hard-working officials of the local branch of the National War Finance Committee, the canvassers, and subscribers alike. And the response of payroll bond purchasers has been especially noteworthy. It all goes to show, as we have said here many times, that Canadians know a good investment when they see it. But this magnificent accomplishment means more than this; it means that our people intend to back up our fighting men to the limit of their capacity. That, in short, spells victory.

COMPULSORY SERVICE

MUCH INTEREST IS BEING SHOWN IN the proposals that have been made for compulsory military service after the war, or what is probably more practical and likely to be more popular, compulsory public service, as an adjunct to University training.
These proposals are showing signs of becoming more than mere ideas for, evidently, to those who have given a great deal of thought to the matter, the economic effect is of paramount importance.

It is suggested, for instance, that the term of service could be adjusted to the long-term up-swings and down-swings of the market and would respond to these swings in much the same manner as the public credit will be used to insure a steady flow of capital into the investment field when it is apparent that a downswing is looming over the horizon. The exact form this lubrication of the production market assumes is at present one of those momentous questions which mark the outline of the road to reconstruction. But the government of Canada has already gone some way toward blazing the trail for private enterprise, by establishing the industrial bank.

Compulsory public service, therefore, should not be regarded only as a means of training youth to take its place in the ranks of producers, so that they give a fair exchange for the remuneration they receive.
It has a definite place in the economy of the nation because it would regulate, to an extent that experience would reveal, the flow of labor to the market. Thus it could be a natural balance to the lubrication of the market by credit.

There will be those who, at first, will regard the whole proposal with indignation.

Not only some of the more aggressive
"Gimme-Gimme" clan but even their parents may be inclined to describe it as a wise result of the war for freedom! On the other hand, it will be found that those among our youth with a real sense of responsibility and those too, who have found the healthful benefits from Pro-Ree training, will be enthusiastic.
These are they who have faith in the future and who regard what is known as "freedom from want" or employment for those able and willing to work, as an ambition not as a gift. For it must be noted that to gain "social security" however the term is interpreted, there must be sacrifice. Mere freedom does not provide "social security." Responsibility gives freedom to acquire security and responsibility is not merely a matter of singing its praises but of intensive practice.

Compulsory Public Service is an excellent method of practice. If once the average citizen is thoroughly cognizant of the method and the various proposals are crystallized into their proper form, it may surprise many of the most reluctant who "view with alarm"
any adjustment of this nature to the exigencies of modern economy—how easily it will be taken for granted, that everybody, female as well as male, must "do their bit" before attaining the privileges as well as responsibilities of citizenship.

AN IMPORTANT DUTY

AT THE OPENING OF VICTORIA'S fall assizes on Monday, Mr. Justice A.
D. Macfarlane had occasion to remind men selected for jury duty of the important function they perform in a democratic country. Several sought to excuse themselves on the basis of important business. With few exceptions, their applications for release were declined.

The situation in recent years is in complete contrast with that of the "hungry thirties." In that era many were only too willing to serve for the relatively meagre payment allowed them. Jury duty, however, as Mr. Justice Macfarlane pointed out, is not something to be taken lightly. It is an important task, the discharge of which contributes immeasurably to an equitable trial. It brings to the analysis of facts surrounding a case the commonsense of the citizens—a good cross-section weighing of the evidence by the man in the street. Such service should far outweigh the smaller matters of personal convenience.

It may not be an agreeable duty, but it is one which brings democracy right into the court. Canada has a system of justice which has earned wide respect. Individual judges sitting alone on trials have little cause for concern over the record of their integrity. But, in the case of more serious charges, they can only feel appreciation for the responsibility assumed by the jury. Its members are the sole judges of the facts.
And as long as that form of trial continues, and juries are selected in the manner they are now chosen, there can be scant opportunity for star chamber methods.

EDUCATION FOR PEACE

EDUCATORS IN THIS AND OTHER DEMocratic countries, from primary teacher to college dean, could read the words addressed to their profession by the American Marine Corps commandant, Lt.-Gen. Alexander Vandergift. Not that military men of other countries are unaware of the fine points of the important part the schools of the nation must play in training the rising generation for an active effort in the prevention of future wars. Nor can educators do the whole job, of course; but they can have a tremendous influence in teaching the fraternal lessons inherent in the carnage of international conflict such as the world is now witnessing. Too many, however, are apt to forget them with the passage of time.

"You will have to decide," General Van-dergift points out, "whether to keep your appreciation of problems and obligations of real national security keenly alive and thus inspire others, or to let your interests slip until one day the whole matter has become remote and you trust vaguely that somewhere a few government and military officials are taking care of things." This ever-present concern for peace should not,
or, at least, so it will appear to most of us,
be left to the individual teacher's responsibility. It might better become a part of educational policy, thoughtfully considered.
The horror of war should not again be allowed to become a succession of facts in the history books, with occasional accents on heroism and forgetfulness of suffering.

BEST GUESSER

NEARLY TWO WEEKS AGO, AS NOTED
in these columns, Vice-President Henry Wallace went in for a prediction of the results of Tuesday's elections in the United States. These were his main prophecies:

That the total vote of the people will be more than 45,000,000 and may reach the 50,000,000 mark;

That President Roosevelt will poll at least 3,000,000 of the popular vote in excess of Mr. Dewey's total;

That President Roosevelt will be victorious in three-fourths of the 48 States;

That President Roosevelt will have a majority of more than 100 after the 531
Electoral College votes are counted.

Those of our readers who desire to see how near Mr. Wallace came will find the answer elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Roosevelt already has a majority of 147 over the 266 of the Electoral College votes necessary for victory. The first three guesses are almost perfect.

The distressing thing about a chronic ailment is that the family is so darned resigned to the worst.

Fate decides battles. The Huns can't stop us, but weeks of wild weather on the Channel would shut off supplies and delay us.

War and Birth Rates

By J. H. GRAY

IN THEIR CONCERN over the effect of prolonged absence from home by British soldiers on the British birth-rate, the authorities of Britain are not alone. The same effect of the same cause has agitated the authorities of all the countries of Europe since the war began. Indeed, the deliberate separation of husbands and wives in an attack upon the cradles of all the occupied countries has been a settled policy of the Germans. They know what such a prolonged separation did to the German birthrate in the last war and have put it into practice in order to retard the population growth of what they call the inferior peoples.

To most people, the factual harvest of national nose-counting at census time is just so much dry-as-dust statistics. But to the population experts it is a mine of information from which the fanciest charts and graphs can be manufactured. From these charts the experts can forecast, and with considerable accuracy, what the population of any country will be 20 years hence.
What is more, they can break this population down into sexes and age groups.

The usual technique is to break the population into age groups of four years each and count the number of each sex in that group. Because the very young far outnumber the very old, the population chart resembles a Christmas tree—wide at the bottom in the young-age group, and narrow at the top in the old-age group. But when a war intervenes in national history it leaves its mark on the age pyramid or tree which rides right up to the top.

THE GERMAN TREE, or pyramid, shows the effect of family separation during the last war. Two million babies, which without the war would have come into the world in Germany between 1914 and 1918, were not born. On the German population chart of 1940, there were some 2,000,000 less men and women in the 20 to 24 age group—the war babies of 1914-1918—than there were in the 25 to 29 and in the 15 to 19 groups. Thus Germany started the war with 1,000,000 fewer men of prime military age than it would have had if the First World War had not taken place.

This actual population loss is only part of the story, for in addition there is the loss of potential population. By 1940, many of the war babies would have married and be in the process of raising families. They would have been replacing themselves and adding something to boot. But because they were not born, the current baby crop is smaller. Instead of expanding in width, the population tree contracts.

THE GERMANS, long before they went to war, worried about the population charts and graphs. The Nazis, in order to maintain the population, encouraged illegitimacy.
Indeed, they put a bounty upon children born out of wedlock. The Nazi state baby farms were not the product of some lurid imagination. They existed, and still exist, as part of the German plan to maintain German population at all costs.

While the Germans have made the production of babies an important war industry, they have seen to it that the occupied countries were unable to reproduce themselves.
Two million French prisoners of war and upwards of 10,000,000 civilians from the occupied countries have been torn from their families for forced labor in Germany.
The effect of these policies will be to substantially reduce the non-German population of Europe in the next 50 years while the German population will be maintained, thus giving the Germans an increased proportion of the whole and the excuse for some latter-day Hitler to bludge again about the dire necessity for Lebensraum for the Germans.

RESPONSIBILITY AND CHALLENGE

From Evening Standard (London)

Some of our mistakes in the past have been due to cupidity; more have been due to stupidity. What we have learned from our magnificent successes as well as from our mistakes is that it is no good state for a body to have a fat head and lean members. By the fulfilment of its colonial program of political progress and economic development, the Motherland may demonstrate its own vitality. The welfare of the colonies is more than a responsibility;
it is a challenge. The energy, the resource,
the mighty fervour that went to their acquisition and nature in the past, pales into insignificance beside the demands their future makes. A chance for greatness lies ahead. By grasping it, we can achieve a double salvation; not that of the colonies alone, but also our own.

TO THOSE OF FRENCH DESCENT

The Spirit of France still hovers o'er its sacred soil.

It's Guardian Angel, the demon tyrants scheme to foil.

To you—who by descent share its glorious past,

To you—hold fast the faith, droop not the head,

Liberty shall prevail at last.

Her gallant sons, on flood and field, were true.

They did not fall—
But traitors from within, through fear or lust of power,

Her utmost vitals did assail.

To you—safeguard your heritage,
Freedom's lamp will surely glow!

The Lily, the sturdy Oak once more will smite the heartless foe.

The world looks to the end, with vision clear and plain,

God and the Right has shaped the world before,
And so it will again.

BEAUTY AND ARCHITECTURE

The suggestion recently made to reserve a portion of the Uplands washroom for scenic purposes has much to commend it.
One wonders, however, whether all real estate firms with prospective purchasers of lots would be equally enthusiastic for such action.

Looking back through the years to earlier days, when the Uplands had very stringent regulations as to the type and design of houses erected, judging from the places now under construction, there must have been considerable relaxation of the former standards, permitting buildings, which surely can never have come from the draughting board of a qualified architect.

Natural beauty can only be maintained if at the same time care is taken as to the design and outline of any building put up in this favored spot.

What causes NEURITIS?

Like many other complaints, the cause may be simply lack of vitamins in the daily diet.

Many ailments, according to modern science, are not due to organic trouble, but to shortage of vitamins. At first, it was thought that lack of vitamin B1 was the cause of neuritis suffering. Now we know that all 8 vitamins are necessary, because each aids the other to function. You can now get them combined in "ALL-IN-ONE" Vitamin Tablets (with valuable minerals and yeast added). CHORAL UNION
INVITES WILLOUGHBY TO LEAD

Members of the Victoria Choral and Orchestral Union at the 11th annual meeting in Memorial Hall, Tuesday evening, agreed to write Edward Willoughby, Christ Church Cathedral organist and choirmaster to accept the conductorship of the union, and to Edgar Holloway, to accept the post of organist and accompanist.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with Mr. Willoughby and Mr. Holloway and members agreed the honorarium to be paid would be $75 a performance for the conductor and $40 a performance for the accompanist.

Following officers were elected: W. H. V. Davies, president; Mrs. William Ellis, vice-president; Mrs. J. Plumridge, secretary; A. S. Miller, treasurer and W. H. Wilson, L. C. Curtis, Mrs. H. Shorrat and Mrs. T. A. Simmons, executive members.

Mr. Miller gave the annual financial statement stating that there was a balance in the bank of $170.64, which included a legacy of $100 left the society by the late Mrs. Redpath of Vancouver. Mr. Davies recommended that the music on hand belonging to the society should be inventoried and tabulated and the members agreed.

A letter of congratulation was sent to Stanley Bulley, former conductor, on his appointment to a Toronto Church. A congratulatory letter was sent also to Ian Galliford on his appointment as organist at St. Andrew's College, Aurora, Toronto.

Weekly rehearsals will be held Tuesday evenings, subject to the convenience of Mr. Holloway. Members stood for two minutes in silent tribute to the memory of the late C. Ley, who was secretary-treasurer.

Setting Fire Charge

Arrested Tuesday evening by Detectives H. F. Jarvis and P. W. Richards, W. H. Watkins was charged in city court Wednesday with wilfully setting fire to a chesterfield, endangering a building at 2109 Fernwood. Date of the charge was July 11, 1944.

A. J. Patton, counsel for Watkins, elected preliminary hearing. Bail was set at $1,000. The charge was remanded until Friday to set a day for hearing.

A soldier, calling his chum as a witness, defeated a charge of dangerous driving on View Street by conducting his own case. He pleaded guilty, however, of driv-

Washes Dishes and Buys Bonds

Miss Doris Roschuck, 1002 Lyle Street, sets a fine example to other bond buyers. She is shown above at her job as cook and dishwasher at the Olympic Cafe, Yates Street. During the past three Victory Loans she has subscribed to $1,600 worth of bonds. She took a $500 bond in the 5th Loan, $600 in the 6th and $500 again in the 7th Loan. She has been a Victoria resident for two years, coming from Alberta where she was born. She is one of a family of eleven, having five brothers and five sisters. Three of her brothers enlisted in the army, she said, but have since received their discharge. Another brother will be entering the army the middle of this month.

Approve Plans For Cordova Bay School

Plans for a new school for the Cordova Bay area, presented by H. Savage, architect, have been approved by the Saanich School Board which discussed new schools, additions to existing buildings and improved teachers' salary schedules.

If erected, this unit will look after 24 children now housed in McMoran's Pavilion and two bus loads of pupils now carried to Keating and Mount Newton at a cost of $525. Sketches and plans for additional classrooms at Tolmie, Cloverdale and Tillamook were also considered.

The board will approach the Department of Education for a grant toward costs of constructing the proposed buildings and also the technical workshop and an eight-room school on Rowan Avenue. Final draft of estimates for extraordinary expenditures in connection with the buildings will be presented to the municipal council next Tuesday.

In a lengthy discussion between the board and representatives of the teachers' salary committee, various details relative to a salary schedule involving categories were clarified, special attention being given to the salaries of principals.

The new schedule will go into effect immediately and will be retroactive to September, 1944. It was designed to encourage teachers to improve their qualifications by taking additional courses in education which in turn would result in improved classroom instruction, the board said.

Suggestion of Insp. John Gough for opening of Saanich schools 20 minutes later in the morning to compensate for daylight saving time was approved by the board. The new time will be effective Nov. 13. There would be no change in the noon hour or afternoon dismissal time, it was decided.

Per Capita Bond Sales Among C.N.R. Men $126

Running nearly a million dollars more than the same period in the 6th Victory Loan, employees of C.N.R., western region, subscribed 87 per cent of their quota in the first 13 days of the 7th Loan campaign. Per capita sales average more than $126 with a per capita objective of $122.70.

In the competition for the Devenish trophy, emblematic of the leading district in the western region, the Lakehead district has taken the lead with 115 per cent of its objective. Prince Rupert drydock, with 110 per cent stands third.

One thing is now clear—America has lost the war.—Japanese broadcast.

Only 8,000 Zombies Fit for Reinforcement—Premier King

Voluntary System Still Working; Conscription Presents Problem

OTTAWA (CP)—Text of Prime Minister King's radio address:

I am going to speak to you tonight of Canada's support of our army overseas.

The government has been giving the closest attention to all the available facts. We have been examining the probabilities of the unknown future course of the war. We have been considering particularly the methods of supplying reinforcements required by the army. At the risk of increasing temporary anxiety we have taken the time needed to look at all the facts. In war time conditions change very rapidly. Five years' experience has taught us all that nothing is more uncertain than war.

I emphasize the question of reinforcements because no other question is of more importance to our fighting men. The government is fully aware of the public concern about reinforcements.

Let me begin by placing the question in its true perspective in the picture of Canada's total military effort. Since 1939, nearly 1,000,000 men have served in Canada's three armed forces. The present strength of the three services is about 750,000. All but 68,000 are volunteers. These figures represent a stupendous achievement in raising fighting men for a nation of less than 12,000,000, particularly when account is taken of the manpower required for war production and vital civilian services.

All 3 Services Need Reinforcements

The problem of reinforcements concerns only one of the three armed services. The navy and the air force have no such problem. The navy, with 85,000 men in the service, has reached the peak of its manpower needs. The air force, with 190,000 men in its ranks, has passed the peak of its manpower requirements. For that, we should all be thankful. The reason is that air force casualties, though costly, have been very much lighter than were anticipated.

The present strength of the army, including the draftees, is over 455,000 men. Of this number, about 390,000 are volunteers. Over 45,000 men have volunteered for general service since Jan. 1 of the present year. Most of the men now in the army have been in its ranks for one, two, three or four years. All but recent recruits have received long, rigorous and varied training.

It is against this background that we should examine the statement that reinforcements without adequate training are being sent into action. The Canadian army is a huge organization. At one time or another, more than 650,000 men have served in its ranks during this war. Of that great number a few may have failed to receive all the training prescribed. Competent officers have made the most careful review. They find that the number of these exceptional cases is exceedingly small. The highest military advisers of the government are satisfied that reinforcements sent into action have been well trained.

The record of Canada's army in Italy, France, Belgium and Holland is a huge record of an army of which any part lacked adequate training. On the contrary, the military achievements of our army are the best possible evidence of the efficiency of its training. Since they went into action in July, 1943, our troops have received a steady stream of reinforcements to replace casualties.

The recent victories on the Scheldt are the answer to those who say that, because of insufficiently trained reinforcements, the army is not being adequately supported.

The need for reinforcements is, of course, based upon the number of casualties. When we speak of the number of casualties, this does not mean the number killed. It means the number killed, wounded, missing, and prisoners of war, and also those who because of sickness or other incapacity are not available for immediate combat.

The probable number of casualties has to be estimated in advance. Before D-Day, no one could possibly know how great the casualties would be in northwestern Europe. The military experts of all the forces which landed in France made the most careful estimates of probable casualties. These estimates were based on experience in other theatres, on the probable nature of the operations in France and the Low Countries, and on the most careful appreciation of the strength of enemy resistance.

In the actual fighting, the total casualties in our army have not been as great as the number estimated and provided for. Infantry casualties were lower than expected in the actual landings and higher than estimated in the heavy fighting since the beachheads were established in June.

The army has been obliged to transfer some of the men originally trained for other arms into the pool of infantry reinforcements. This procedure is known as "remustering." Such transfers are bound to be a disappointment for men who have been highly trained in a particular arm of the service and find themselves obliged, by the circumstances of war, to transfer to another arm.

But such troops are not untrained. All "re-mustered" troops have had basic infantry training. In addition to basic training and the training they have received in their particular arm, they are given further specialized infantry training before being sent into combat.

I now come to the question: Is there an adequate reserve of reinforcements for the army? In the opinion of the military authorities, no difficulty is likely to arise except in relation to reinforcements for the infantry. Infantry reinforcements have been adequate to meet requirements to date. But, during his recent visit to the army overseas, Col. Ralston learned that to provide replacements for future casualties at present rates, the flow of infantry reinforcements from Canada should be accelerated.

One fact needs to be emphasized. There is not an overall shortage of potential reinforcements. Many thousands of men are in training now and enlistments are continuing at an encouraging rate. Because we cannot tell how long the war may last, we must, as long as a possible need may arise, continue to recruit men for the army to keep up the supply of reinforcements. But recent recruits and those who enlist from now on will not be available until they are trained.

Ralston's Report Presents Problem

Col. Ralston's report to the government disclosed an immediate problem which had to be faced. That problem is to find the means of speeding up the flow of fully-trained infantry reinforcements to meet, not an actual shortage of reinforcements now, but a possible shortage in the next few months.

The question many of you will ask at once, is: Why not send overseas some of the draftees who are fully trained in Canada under the National Resources Mobilization Act?

That will seem to many of you the easiest way of meeting the problem. It is not, however, in accord with the policy of keeping our army overseas a 100 per cent voluntary army if we possibly can. The voluntary system of raising our overseas forces has produced splendid results during five years of war.

We have always believed that Canada's forces, having begun as voluntary forces, would become more effective, and that the country would be more united in their support, if we continued to rely upon the voluntary system for reinforcements as long as the voluntary system continued to be effective.

Col. Ralston had grave doubts of our ability to keep up the flow of reinforcements in the next few months by voluntary means. He considered, therefore, that he had no alternative but to recommend that draftees should be sent overseas as reinforcements. The acceptance of this recommendation would have required agreement by the government that no alternative existed but to resort to conscription for overseas service. I do not need to stress the gravity of the decision the government was then obliged to face. Days of anxious deliberation were devoted to an exploration of all possible alternatives.

When I realized that unless Colonel Ralston's recommendation was accepted by the cabinet, his resignation would follow, I felt it to be my duty as Prime Minister to seek the most expert advice I believed to be available. I accordingly consulted Gen. McNaughton. As the builder and first commander of the Canadian Army, I knew there was no man who had the interests of the army and the men overseas closer to his heart. Gen. McNaughton expressed the belief that the possibilities of securing the required reinforcements by voluntary means had not been exhausted.

The recommendation made by Col. Ralston was not accepted. Following his resignation, Gen. McNaughton assumed the duties of Minister of National Defence. I regret deeply the difference which led to Col. Ralston's resignation. No man in Canada has given more selfless and devoted service to his country throughout the war. In this matter Col. Ralston has followed the dictates of his conscience in what he feels he owes to his pledged word.

I need not give assurances of Gen. McNaughton's devotion to his country, or of his determination to see that full support is given to the army.

It is important to remember that the former Minister of National Defence and the present minister have precisely the same objective in view: They differ only as to the means of reaching that goal.

Let me give you some facts and figures which were before the government in reaching its decision.

There is a widespread impression that 60 or 70 or even 80 thousand draftees have been sitting around in military camps in Canada since 1941 or 1942 drawing good pay, and doing little or nothing to help win the war. That picture is almost totally incorrect. The facts are quite different.

In March 1941 we began to call up men for compulsory service in Canada for the duration of the war. Up to Sept. 30, 1940, the army had accepted about 150,000 draftees. The present total number of men enrolled as draftees is about 68,000. Of these some 9,000 are on extended leave, on compassionate or other grounds. Many of them are unsuited for military duties. Of the so-called "home defence" force the effective total strength, therefore, is under 60,000.

Here I pause to correct one widespread false impression about the draftees. Of the 60,000 only 23,000 are from the province of Quebec, and only 25,000 from all Canada are French speaking.

You will ask what has happened to the other 22,000 draftees accepted by the army since 1941. There has been a wastage of about 33,000, including men discharged for medical or other reasons which unfitted them to be soldiers. About 6,000 draftees have enlisted as volunteers in the navy or the air force. The largest group, about 43,000, have enlisted as volunteers for general service in the army. General service includes overseas service. In the army overseas fighting today are many thousands of men who were once draftees.

The "Home Defence" army is not a static force. Its composition is constantly changing. This year, nearly 15,000 men have been called up and enrolled as draftees, and more than 10,000 draftees have volunteered for general service. Since the landing in France in June voluntary enlistments for overseas from "Home Defence" troops have been higher than the numbers called up and accepted as draftees.

From a purely military standpoint, there is no argument that it is preferable to reinforce a voluntary army with volunteers. The military authorities report that enlisting gives the draftees a new outlook, new self-respect, and a determination that, comes from having made a great decision. It is bound to make them better soldiers.

Only 23,000 Draftees Come From Quebec

This is very important, because we are as much concerned with the quality, as with the numbers, of men sent overseas as reinforcements.

We must remember that if draftees are sent overseas before they volunteer, they will not be going to reinforce an army of drafted men. Over and over again it has been said that conscripted men would be received without enthusiasm by the volunteers they were sent overseas to join. It is also said that the presence of conscripts would constitute a source of division, and possible dissension, in the fighting units. That is, nevertheless, a risk the government would have to take, if it were necessary to enable Canada to bear her just share of the load in the winning of the war.

But that is not the situation. There are some thousands of trained volunteers already overseas, or about to be dispatched overseas as reinforcements. Others are being remustered. There are, in addition, many thousands of volunteers in training in the army in Canada. Every day draftees are volunteering for overseas service. We believe their number can be increased by emphasizing anew the need and the opportunity for overseas service.

We had to ask ourselves one other question: How many additional men would be immediately available if conscription were resorted to in order to send draftees overseas? I have told you that the present effective total of draftees in the army is under 60,000. Of that number only about 42,000 are considered suitable material for infantry reinforcement.

PRIME MINISTER KING

ments. Some 16,000 of these men are trained as infantry. It is estimated that about 8,000 of them are sufficiently trained so that they could be ready for combat at an early date.

Without any compulsion or any intensification of present methods a considerable number of these draftees would volunteer. We believe many more can be secured by a special appeal. The actual difference in numbers secured by the two methods might be very small indeed. The voluntary system has not broken down. At the moment, it is subject to an added strain, which calls for an intensified effort at home, in the period immediately ahead, particularly to provide personnel in an advanced stage of training.

How great the difficulties would be in substituting conscription for overseas service for the voluntary system no one knows. But every one who is honest with himself knows that there would be genuine difficulties and that they might be very grave. Instead, we are redoubling our efforts to meet the existing situation by the voluntary method. In these efforts, I appeal for the patriotic co-operation of all Canadians.

Many of you will ask why, if they are not to be sent overseas, the draftees are not disbanded? There are several reasons. One is that ever since early in 1942 draftees have been enlisting and going overseas in thousands. Many more are trained, and will wish to volunteer for service overseas now that it is clear that the need for "Home Defence" has passed.

Another reason is that while the war is not yet advanced to the stage where the government can announce a detailed plan of demobilization, it has been decided to follow the principle that those men who have given the longest and the hardest service will be given the first opportunity of demobilization. Obviously that means a first preference in discharge and in employment opportunities for those with overseas service.

effort to have each draftee told individually of the practical benefits to his own future of becoming a volunteer and enjoying the full opportunities for successful re-establishment in civil life. In this we shall follow the principle set forth by Gen. McNaughton, "you cannot drive men of spirit, but you can encourage and lead them."

Volunteer System 'Glory of Canada'

The glory of Canada's fight for freedom is the imperishable fact that every Canadian in uniform at sea, in the air and on every fighting front is there by his own choice. In this world conflict Canada has produced a race of noble warriors. The light in their eyes is the light of liberty, and the fire in their hearts is the fire of spirits dedicated to the service of their fellow men.

This is not the hour to destroy that magnificent record. It is the hour to kindle the fire of free service in the hearts of all our young men in the army and outside its ranks.

I would ask my fellow Canadians, without distinction of race or creed or party to join with me in the appeal which I now make for full support to Canada's army overseas. I ask all to join no less unitedly than we have joined in the appeal for the Victory Loan. This is a higher call, and it should bring forth an even greater response.

No pride could be greater than our pride in what our armed forces are doing to help win the war, and to give Canada a foremost place among the free nations of the world.

The future of our country will belong to the men who are fighting Canada's battles today and to those men and women who are giving them full support. They will be the leaders of our country through years to come.

To you, young men, who are serving in Canada's "Home Defence" forces, I should like to make a special appeal.

Because of the training you have already received, you are in an exceptional position to give service which is particularly needed at this time. I have told you of the need. Let me emphasize the opportunity—the greatest you will ever have—to further serve your country and bring honor to yourselves and your families. You will never regret the decision to do all you possibly can to support Canada's fighting army.

In doing that, you will be helping to destroy the enemy of mankind and to provide security and opportunity for yourselves, your children and your fellow men. You will be doing more than that. You will be helping to remove a source of misunderstanding, bitterness and division in our own country and to preserve its strength through years to come. You will be helping to lay the foundations of a better world.

I appeal no less earnestly to the friends and families of our young men to help and encourage them in a decision which will mean everything to them through the rest of their lives.

It is the government's responsibility to make the decision as to the best methods of supporting Canada's army overseas. No decision could possibly please everyone.

We have made the decision which we believe will best support the army and contribute most effectively to an utmost national effort in the winning of the war. But to achieve these ends, we shall need the help and co-operation of the people as a whole. Partisans controversy and division at this time will weaken, not strengthen Canada's war effort.

If we all do our part, Canada will emerge on the day of victory, free, united and strong. That is the Canada we want to welcome the return of our victorious fighting men.

Soups, Desserts Camouflage Milk, Essential to Diet

By CATHERINE SIMPSON
Victoria Home Economics Association for Victoria Nutrition Committee

We all know that milk is one of our most valuable foods, yet it is sadly lacking in many Canadian diets. There is no substitute for milk and dairy products. Canada's official food rules tell us that adults need half a pint, children more than a pint every day, also some cheese as available. Milk contains all the food-stuffs and is an excellent food for all persons both young and old.

How many times do we hear people say "My family will not drink milk?" Sometimes it can be camouflaged so they do enjoy it. Try adding chocolate syrup to fresh milk. This is especially popular with children. There are also other ways to include milk in the diet. Cream soups, desserts made with milk, cereals started with water and finished with milk, escalloped or creamed dishes, cream sauces on vegetables, or as liquid in cookery.

One of the easiest and most delightful ways to serve milk is in cream soups. Made with vegetables they abound in minerals and vitamins too. Most any vegetable can be used, peas, carrots, corn, celery, tomato, potato. Simply press the cooked vegetable through a coarse sieve, add to thin white sauce and your soup is made. Of course it must be served piping hot. Lukewarm soup tempts no person's appetite. A good way to use leftover vegetables too:

Cream of Vegetable Soup
3 tablespoons fat.
3 tablespoons minced onion.

2 tablespoons flour.
3 cups milk.
1 cup vegetable water, water, or milk.
1½ teaspoons salt.
Pepper.
1½ cups finely-chopped or sieved leftover cooked or canned vegetables.
Paprika.
Melt fat in top of double boiler. Add onion and cook over direct heat until tender. Add flour. Stir until smooth. Gradually add milk and vegetable water. Cook over boiling water, stirring occasionally until smooth and thickened. Add seasonings and vegetables. Heat, then serve, sprinkled with paprika.
A medium white sauce, a cooked or leftover vegetable, a few crumbs. In a jiffy you have a luncheon dish, very tempting and using some of the daily milk quota.

Escalloped Vegetables
2 cups cooked vegetables.
1 cup medium white sauce.
1 cup buttered crumbs.
Place cooked vegetables in a greased baking dish. Pour white sauce over vegetable. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until crumbs are brown.

Variety of milk desserts which may be made is almost infinite.

Soft Custard
Beat slightly 3 eggs.
Add gradually 2½ cup sugar.
Add, stirring until sugar dissolves, 2 cups milk.
Cook over hot water until custard thickens and coats a silver spoon. Chill. Serve as a chilled custard or over cakes and puddings.

When speaking about desserts we must not forget ice cream.

Advocates Study Of Amalgamation In Other Cities

Discussing "Amalgamation of Greater Victoria" at Women's Council Table at the City Hall, Monday evening, Miss J. E. M. Bruce said such a project should not be undertaken without exhaustive study in a city the same size as Victoria where the plan had proved successful. Victoria's particular problems, she noted, should be surveyed by a committee representative of all municipalities.

Chief gain in Vancouver's plan, she said, has been reduction in costs in services such as water supply and main sewerage.

Mrs. Evelyn M. Bryce of Saanich said chief gains to that municipality through amalgamation would be improvement in health services, transportation system, street lighting, library service, social service and garbage collection. More equipment would be within call for both police and fire departments.

She pointed out that Victoria's bonded debt would be bound to alarm Saanich residents. In the case of amalgamation re-assessment would probably take place, meaning a raise in Saanich taxes.

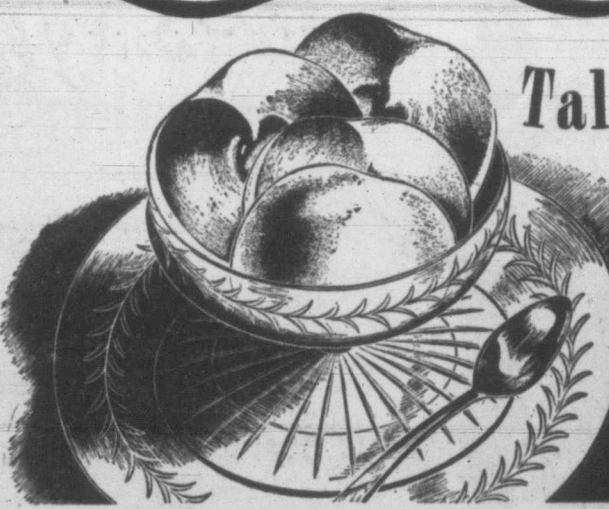

Mrs. S. R. Bowden of Esquimalt told the forum that she did not consider the time for amalgamation ripe yet, and that the project should not be undertaken until after the war. It would, she said, mean a saving in public services, such as police and fire departments and an improvement in the transportation system. She pointed out that Esquimalt is the most historic section of Vancouver Island and through amalgamation might lose its identity.

A by-law regarding amalgamation submitted to Oak Bay residents at the present time would not carry, according to Mrs. H. E. Young, of that municipality. She said that Oak Bay's financial position is much better than that of Victoria, and would cause citizens to hesitate about amalgamation. She advocated beginning the plan with combination of health services, following Vancouver's example of a metropolitan health area.

Mrs. A. C. Ross presided and Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse was discussion leader.

ANNOUNCEMENT by the Attorney-General's Department that doe deer would become lawful game in certain areas of Vancouver Island for two weeks in December was no surprise to officials of the Fish and Game Protective Associations. The plan has the full support of both the district and island groups, it was learned today. Speaking to George Beck, past president of the Victoria Fish and Game Association, he said: "Hunters should be permitted to shoot off a limited number of doe deer in some districts. Owing to certain areas being closed to the hunters the animals have been permitted to breed with the result the deer population has not been properly regulated."

BECK THEN related the problem experienced by a farmer in the Saseenos district. "Deer invaded his garden and devoured practically his entire planting of raspberry canes right down to the roots," he said. "The damage was close to $1,000. One morning this fellow counted no less than 16 deer in his garden. And a lot of people don't seem to realize that does are very bit as destructive as bucks. As a matter of fact a doe will often invade a garden and bring along her fawn to feed at the same time. It would be a great thing if the hunters could kill off a lot of old does who are wise to all the tricks; but, of course, one can't expect the hunters to go out after certain does."

ALTHOUGH Knute Rockne, one of the most colorful football coaches in the United States, has been dead several years, I still come across interesting stories about the Notre Dame mentor. Rockne was supposed to be the last word in locker-room orators. But that doesn't mean that he was a long-winded fellow. As a matter of fact, one of the most inspired messages he ever imparted between halves consisted of three words.

SEEMS THAT one of his famous clubs had played a very effeminate game for a first half and came off the field for the rest period dreading the tongue-lashing every one of the players expected. They sat in the dressing-room minute after minute waiting for Rockne to burst in on them. But minute after minute ticked off as the tension mounted. Then, with just a few seconds remaining before they had to go on the field again, there was a sound at the door. Every player on the team sat bolt upright, eyes glued on the closed door. The door opened and Rockne stuck in his head. But only for a second. "Excuse me, girls," the famous coach said and hurriedly departed.

GATHERED from here and there: Seventy-six years ago an English trainer wrote these two rules of racing which are still followed rigidly: (1) The fitter your horse is, the more severe you should make the pace; (2) If you have reason to doubt your horse's gameness, try to take an early lead. Judge Landis is making no motions toward relenting on his order banning the major league ball clubs from training in the south despite the club owners' hope that he will. Before hiring Del Baker as third base coach of the Boston Red Sox, manager Joe Cronin tried to lure back to baseball, Al Schacht, whom he considers the best third base coach that ever worked in the American League.

Victoria Seeks Franchise In Pro Ball League

Leafs Invade Home Ice of New Yorkers

Toronto Maple Leafs have a chance tonight to extend their lead in the National Hockey League when they clash with the tail-end New York Rangers at Madison Square Gardens. In the only other game since last Sunday, Chicago Black Hawks play Canadiens at Montreal.

Leafs will be gunning for their fifth successive win without a defeat while Canadiens, in second place two points behind Toronto, will attempt to stop Paul Thompson's hard-driving Hawks, who currently share fourth spot with Boston Bruins.

Rangers will pit a new line against Leafs. The Broadway Blueshirts have lost their first three games. Phil Watson, who played last year with Canadiens on loan from Rangers, will be at centre between Hank Goldup, former Leaf left winger, and Walter Atanas, rookie from Hamilton, Ont.

Watson joined the Rangers' camp last week-end and worked out with the club at the Brooklyn ice palace Tuesday and yesterday. Goldup has been acting as extra defenceman and utility forward since the start of the season.

Canadiens announced the loss of Glen Hammon, defenceman, who suffered a broken bone in his hand during last Sunday's game against Detroit Red Wings. Canadiens still have Butch Bouchard, Leo Lamoureux, Frank Edmonds and Wilf Fields for defence chores.

Competitive Sport For City Schools

Re-establishment of competitive sport in Victoria's elementary schools was emphasized Wednesday night in an education committee report to school board.

The report listed regular programs of interschool competition in two divisions, north and south. Playoffs would be arranged for winners, it added.

During the period before Christmas, senior and junior football schedules will be run off along with senior and junior girls' basketball. From Christmas to Easter, senior and junior boys' basketball and senior and junior girls' grass hockey will be played. From Easter to June schools will concentrate on football in divisions for both girls and boys. In addition, the board was told, large programs of intra-school sports have been organized and substantial schedules have been arranged at Central Junior High. High School teams are entered in home leagues and city leagues, it added.

at Belmont Park Wednesday, to bring his total for the season to 256. Bobby Permaine, also riding at Belmont, is second with 217 victories.

Annual Ice Session Here This Week-end

Plans were complete today for the annual two-day meeting here Saturday and Sunday of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association. The delegates from all parts of the province will make their headquarters at the Douglas Hotel.

Doug Grimston of New Westminster, president, will preside. Saturday night at 6 visitors will be the guests at a civic dinner. Mayor McGavin will extend a welcome to the delegates. Opening business session will follow, and will be resumed Sunday, when the election of officers will take place.

Doug Fletcher and Ivan Temple will represent Victoria at the sessions.

Quebec Ice Loop Enjoys Fine Start Despite Argument

MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec Senior Hockey League — be it either an outflow or a member in good standing of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association — is away to a flying box office start.

The league is engaged in a controversy with the C.A.H.A., but the fact that the circuit which produced last year's Allan Cup winners Quebec Aces, might not be eligible for Allan Cup play doesn't seem to be bothering the fans a bit, if the crowds who attend opening games last week-end are any criterion.

Actually, most of the fans are pretty well convinced that the differences will be adjusted before play-off time rolls around, and that eventually the four-team league will go back into the C.A.H.A. fold. They base that premise on the feeling that the Q.S.H.L. needs the C.A.H.A. and the C.A.H.A. needs the Q.S.H.L.

The dispute started over entry of Hull Volants into the league to join Ottawa Commandos, Montreal Royals and the Allan Cup champions Quebec Aces. Ottawa district officials claimed that both Volants and Commandos should play in their own district instead of in a league operating under the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association.

The C.A.H.A. backed up the Ottawa district demands.

Vancouver Names Rep Rugby Squad

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver "Reps" for Saturday's McKechnie Cup rugby match with Victoria in the Capital City was named yesterday following a workout at Brockton Point. Here is the line-up: Ray Cormack (Ex-Brits), Al Thomas (V.R.C.), Dave Moon (V.R.C.), Roy Rowan (V.R.C.), Chuck Potter (V.R.C.), Barney Kirby (Ex-Brits), Andy Carmichael (V.R.C.), Bob McGuigan (V.R.C.), Jimmy Morris (Ex-Brits), Frank Askew (Ex-Brits), Groff Murdoch (Ex-Brits), Lloyd Williams (V.R.C.), Eldon Mathews (Ex-Brits), Art Hicks (V.R.C.), Bill Kinder (Ex-Brits), Spart, W. Gridiron Playoffs In East Saturday

TORONTO (CP) — The largest football crowd in Hamilton history is expected Saturday as Toronto Balmy Beach and the 1943 Dominion champion Hamilton Wildcats open their home-and-home points-to-count series for the championship of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

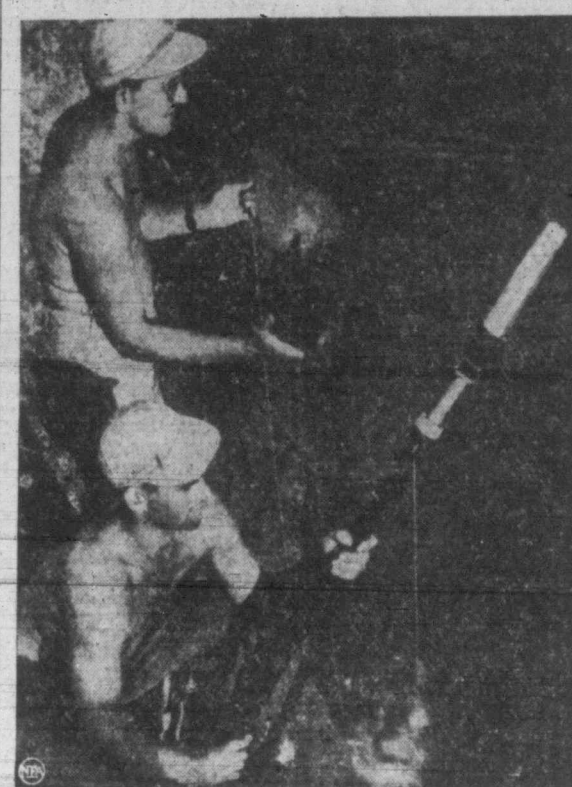

In their last meeting of the scheduled season last Saturday the two clubs drew a paid attendance of 10,500, largest crowd ever to see a game in the city's civic stadium. This Saturday club officials are expecting about 12,000 paid customers. The largest attendance ever at a Hamilton game was in 1939 when 11,002 paid to see the old Tigers play Variety Orphans. That was in the Hamilton Amateur Athletic Association field.

A large attendance is also expected at Toronto where Hagersville R.C.A.F. plays Toronto Navy Bulldogs in a sudden-death game for the championship of the Ontario Armed Services League.

U.S. Interests Back Team In Western International

By PETE SALLAWAY
Professional baseball will return to Victoria next summer if plans now under consideration go through. It was learned today that United States interests will make a bid for a franchise on behalf of this city at a meeting of the Western International Baseball League at Tacoma on Nov. 19.

Although it is not possible to reveal the actual people interested in securing the franchise, it is known they are associated with the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League. In recent weeks a survey of the possibilities of pro ball in this city have been made and found to be extremely favorable.

Plans call for the staging of night baseball and the parties interested claim they can secure the necessary equipment for night games should their application for a franchise be granted.

Robert E. Able of Tacoma, president of the W.I.B.L., has already stated the league will resume operations next summer providing the manpower shortage and travel problems can be overcome. The league has been out of operation since 1941.

In addition to an application from Victoria, interests in Aberdeen, Vancouver, Wash., Yakima and Bremerton will also seek entry into the league. Able has stated that three of these applications will likely be accepted to join the teams already located in Vancouver, B.C., Spokane and Tacoma. Victoria appears to stand a good chance of being one of the three selected.

Bob Brown, Vancouver's number one baseball promoter, has already signified his willingness to enter a team in the league if it is decided to resume operations next year.

Professional baseball was last played in Victoria in 1922 in the old Northwest League.

Krol in Hospital

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — Joe Krol, star halfback with Hamilton Wildcats, 1943 Dominion football champions, was stricken with an attack of influenza late Wednesday and rushed to hospital for treatment by Dr. Stan Perkins, club physician. Officials said it was doubtful if he would participate in the first game of the home-and-home points-to-count series against Toronto Balmy Beach for the Ontario Rugby Football Union championship here Saturday.

Northey Proves Baseball Success Under 3 Managers

NEW YORK (AP) — Ronald James Northey, Philadelphia's slugging outfielder, has the distinction of serving three different owners and three different managers in his three seasons with the Phillies.

With the exception of Chuck Klein, who will confine his activities to coaching in 1945, Northey, who joined the club in 1942, has served longer than any other player on the team.

During that time the 24-year-old outer gardener has secured his pay cheques from club presidents Gerry Nugent in 1942, Bill Cox in 1943 and Bob Carpenter in 1944, while taking orders from managers Hans Lober, Buckey Harris and Fred Fitzsimmons.

Like the two previous pilots, Fitzsimmons considers the stocky 200-pound, five-foot ten power hitter his best athlete. "Northey has the makings of a great player," says Freddie, "we're counting heavily on him for next year. If he continues to hit the way he has the past couple of years, we're a cinch to climb out of the National League cellar."

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Hershey Bears blanked the fast-stepping Pittsburgh Hornets 11 to 0 in the American Hockey League before 3,200 fans Wednesday night.

Hec Pozzo scored three times, while Gordon Pettinger was credited with four of the Bears' goals.

Hallowe'en Damage In Oak Bay Heavy

Approximately $200 worth of damage was done by youthful vandals in Oak Bay on Hallowe'en it was reported by A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer, to a council meeting Wednesday evening.

This included 77 signs damaged or destroyed, 10 street lights broken, the foot bridge over Bowker Creek damaged, three hydrants turned on and eight meter box covers removed and some of them lost.

Mr. Musgrave said that the police had a pretty good idea who the responsible parties were but were having difficulty obtaining definite proof.

Councillor R. Angus was in the chair as acting reeve in the absence of Reeve L. W. Woodhouse.

In reply to a letter sent by the council stating that it considers the present nursery near Elgin

Street essential the school board sent a letter saying that the site for the proposed new junior high school had not been definitely picked and that it is desirous of avoiding any disputes about the matter with the council. The council pointed out in its letter that the nursery represents considerable investment and 10 years of growth and there is no other site for it available.

A by-law was introduced to transfer $30,000 to the reserve fund. This money is to be used for public works in the post-war period.

It was decided to expend paving along Nottingham Street as far as Lansdowne as a postwar paving project.

A. D. Findlay was appointed returning officer for the Oak Bay municipal elections in December and A. Mitchell was appointed deputy returning officer. Polling will take place at the municipal hall.

It was decided to proceed with street improvements at the junction of King George Terrace and Crescent Road. This will cost approximately $1,000.

The City Hall Employees' Association will meet Friday evening in the City Council chamber at 8 to hear reports on the recent convention of the joint council of public employees here and to consider the association's application to the city for a 10 per cent wage increase which would bring the inside staff under salary regulations similar to those extended to other departments.

Frederick H. Rough, H.M.C. dockyard employee, and Bernard Howard, former dockyard workman, Wednesday were remanded until Friday on five charges of conspiracy to defraud the government. The adjournment was granted at the request of W. A. Brethour, defence counsel, who asked the several charges be disposed of together by the lower court to facilitate arranging bail. Legal argument in the preliminary hearing of Rough and Clement Davies, facing a similar charge, will proceed in Esquimalt court Thursday afternoon at 2.30.

Enemy Ships Sunk By Concerted Effort Says Lt.-Cmdr. Groos

LT.-CMDR. DAVID GROOS

Lt.-Cmdr. David W. Groos, R.C.N., one of the youngest commanding officers in the Canadian navy, captain of H.M.C.S. Restigouche, makes light of his part in the destruction of enemy flak ships and other armed craft off Brest, France.

The Restigouche, with other units of Canada's navy, composed a trouble-shooting flotilla which scoured the English Channel screening the world's greatest invasion armada on D-Day and in subsequent naval operations.

It was this flotilla which kept close watch on Brest from the sea while the strategic French naval port was still occupied by the enemy.

On July 6 the Restigouche, with the Saskatchewan, Skeena and Qu'Appelle, sighted and sank three enemy flak ships off Brest harbor.

Keeping a keen watch for the emergence of enemy warships known to be based at the French port, the same flotilla, with the addition of the destroyer Assiniboine, pounced on and destroyed a fleet of five armed trawlers at a point south of Brest.

HONOR MENTION

For his work in directing the movements of the Restigouche in the face of heavy enemy fire, Lt.-Cmdr. Groos was mentioned in dispatches.

Today the 26-year-old naval commander, who was a sub-lieutenant when he left Victoria at the outset of the war, is home on extended leave. He is staying with his wife at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. W. Walker, 3610 Cadboro Bay Road.

On completion of his leave he will take up a shore appointment.

RIGHT ON TARGET

Like most naval officers, Lt.-Cmdr. Groos is modest about his achievements.

Of the engagement in which the flotilla sank the three flak ships, he said: "It was good shooting. Our gunners were right on the target."

He hastened to add, however, that the Restigouche was but a unit of a fast-shooting flotilla.

"I would like to make it clear," he said, "that the destruction of the enemy ships was brought about by the concerted effort of the entire flotilla—not by any one particular ship. It was great team work."

COMMANDED KEEN CREW

The young commander speaks in the highest terms of the men, including many Victorians, under his command. "They were very, very keen and efficient," he observed. "It was something they had been looking forward to for a long time, and when it came to the test the boys proved their mettle. I wouldn't wish to command a better crew."

The Restigouche, throughout and subsequent to the invasion operations of the past summer, with other units of the Canadian navy, played a particularly important role in keeping the channel lanes clear of hostile ships and in facilitating the establishment of Normandy beach-heads. Before terminating the interview, Lt.-Cmdr. Groos displayed a memento of the naval engagements in which he figured.

It was a paper knife he himself had fashioned out of the casing of an enemy shell which was a near-miss to the Restigouche. He treasures this as a reminder of his active war life.

Lt.-Cmdr. Groos is the only remaining member of the complement which manned the Restigouche when she left Victoria for the war zone late in 1939. He was a sub-lieutenant in those days. The others have drifted to other ships.

Plans Committee Study On Unemployment Bill

The provincial government's demand letter, calling for repayment of the $300,000 advanced to Victoria in 1935-36 for unemployment relief, will be acknowledged and the issue will be referred to the city finance committee, Mayor Andrew McGavin said today.

He saw no immediate action of a decisive nature on the matter. It would require considerable study before the city determined what policy it would follow, the mayor said.

He indicated the letter would be read to the City Council at its next meeting with a recommendation from him that it be forwarded to the finance committee for study and a report with recommendations.

Astronomical Group Visits Planetarium

Forty members of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Victoria Centre, were guests of Capt. J. M. Grant, officer-in-charge of the Naval College at Royal Roads, Wednesday night, when their meeting took the form of a visit to the college's planetarium.

Demonstrations of the operation of equipment at the planetarium were given and Commander H. R. Tingley conducted a discussion period in which he answered questions asked by the members.

Rainbow 2, Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps, under command of Lieut. Norris Harwood, will parade at Victoria High School north field Friday at 2.30.

Found Guilty Of Indecent Assault

Tried on a charge of attempted rape of an eight-year-old girl, Robert Carlow, 18, was found guilty by a full assize jury Wednesday on a reduced charge of indecent assault, and was remanded to the end of the assize for sentence by Justice A. D. Macfarlane. The jury deliberated its verdict for 44 minutes.

At the opening of the trial, Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, made an unsuccessful attempt to quash the indictment on the grounds that the assize court had no jurisdiction in the case. Mr. Henderson in his argument which was ruled against by Justice Macfarlane, held that, as Carlow was only 17 at the time of the offence, the juvenile judge had absolute jurisdiction and should have tried the case.

The offence occurred last November and the case was transferred from the spring assizes to the fall owing to the absence of a major witness.

Jurors sworn in for the trial were: J. Barracklough, foreman; J. S. Hall, N. D. Ashwood, P. H. Scott, W. Tyson, C. F. Olson, A.

G. Hill, Eric Badminton, E. Tuson, R. Olson, W. D. Ellis and E. L. Knowlton.

trol of service stations in Duncan, and their wishes and views will receive the consideration of the council. An application for a license to start a taxi business was also received. Accounts totaling $2,248.25 were passed for payment.

Victoria Receives Loan Honor Plaque In Street Ceremony

In a brief but impressive ceremony today Alderman Archie Willis received an honor plaque on behalf of the City of Victoria, which was presented to mark Greater Victoria's achievement of its quota in Canada's 7th Victory Loan.

No sooner had the $6,180,000 quota been achieved than officials aimed at the $7,000,000 mark with the slogan "Let's make it $7,000,000 for the 7th Victory Loan."

The ceremony took place in the Bond Shell on View Street, and the plaque was presented by R. M. Brink, vice-chairman of the National War Finance Committee, from Vancouver.

He congratulated the citizens of Victoria on the ringing answer they had given the men of the fighting forces, "who are slogging it out in the mud and the grime of the battlefields, and to the women of the forces, who keep the men in the fighting stream, and follow to care for the wounded on the battlefields."

He said that the honor plaque might well represent Victoria's first beach-head, and that they must now go on to their new objective—$7,000,000.

In accepting the plaque in the name of Greater Victoria, Alderman Willis congratulated the untiring workers of the Loan office for their efforts, as well as the citizens who purchased the bonds. He gave a special word of praise to the members of the armed forces in the area who have gone over their quotas so heavily, and expressed the belief that Victoria citizens would not relax their efforts, but go on to set up a Victory Loan record long to be remembered.

On the platform were representatives of the three armed forces women's divisions, as well as war workers. Representing the navy were Wren A. DeLong and Wren A. Martin; the R.C.A.F.: Section Officer N. K. Browne and Cpl. M. M. Aird; the army, Lieut. H. Butterfield and Pte. Mary Rider; war workers, Audrey Kayall and Bob Scarrah. Subaltern D. Romyn also attended, representing the A.T.S. of England.

Civilian officials in attendance included J. W. Spencer, chairman of the Vancouver Island War Finance Committee; R. W. Hibberd, chairman of Victoria Committee; C. A. May, organizer for Victoria; W. F. Munro, organizer of payroll group; Duncan MacBride, chairman of publicity committee; Joseph Hope, Chinese committee; J. V. Johnson, representing Oak Bay, and Reeve Thomas Hatfield, representing Esquimalt.

G. Kilshaw acted as master of ceremonies and announced the figures that have been achieved by the various canvass groups in the area as follows: Navy: Pacific Command, $37,850 or 15.15 per cent; South Vancouver Island, $244,400, 14.42 per cent; Air Force: Western Air Command, $1,454,450, 11.4 per cent; No. 2 Detachment at Belmont House, $12,550, 11.3 per cent; Army: Pacific Command, $1,900,000, 11.6 per cent; South Vancouver Island, $256,000, 10.4 per cent.

Civilian: Payroll, $1,600,000, 11.5 per cent; Chinese, $300,000, 13.5 per cent, and General canvass, $6,304,150, 10.3 per cent.

The Garrison Band, under the baton of Bandmaster C. M. Bower, was in attendance.

City to Order Scale

When the required number of aldermen have signed the recommendation, Victoria will write an order to the Canadian Fairbanks Morse Company for a new 30-ton scale at a price of $2,206. Ald. W. L. Morgan, finance committee chairman, reported today.

An invitation to the Mayor, Mrs. McGavin and to members of the City Council to attend the C.W.A.C. pipe and brass band concert in the Royal Victoria Theatre Sunday at 3, was received at the City Hall today.

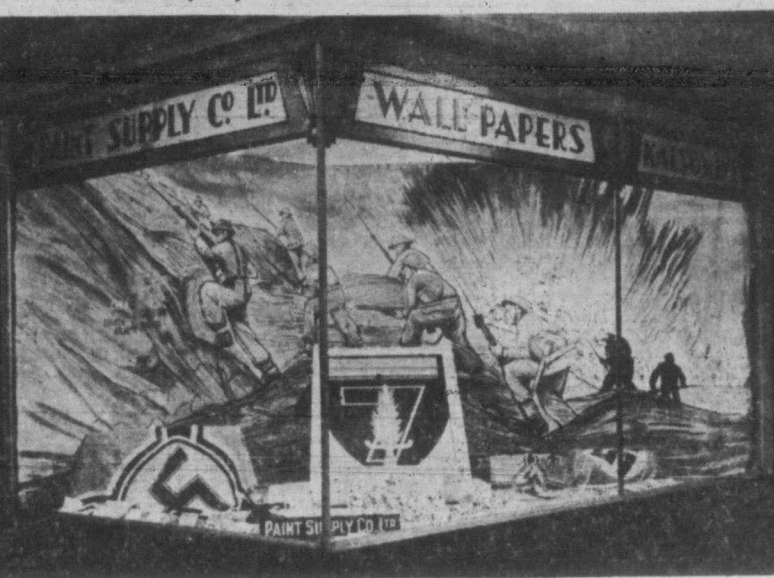

Permission to erect a model lighthouse on the Causeway in connection with the observance of Navy Week from Nov. 19 to 25, is sought by the Navy League of Canada, Victoria branch, in another letter on file.

A permit for $8,000 alterations to the Canadian Legion business and entertainment hall at 780 Cormorant, was issued by the city building inspector's department today to the Britannia Branch. Another permit covered a $4,900 five-room dwelling for A. L. Petreutier at 1335 Coventry.

Nazi Air Ace Killed

LONDON (CP)—Today's German communiqué said Maj. Walter Nowotny, air group commander credited with bringing down 258 planes, had been killed in aerial combat. He last was reported in action on the eastern front. "The Luftwaffe loses in him one of its most successful fighter pilots," the communiqué said.

Fine Window Displays for Loan

Victoria firms have excelled themselves during the 7th Victory Loan campaign which concludes this Wednesday as the drive. Several of the displays show war souvenirs from Germany and Japan. That of the Paint Supply Co. on Yates Street, shown above, has many souvenirs from occupied Europe displayed in front of a huge poster showing Canadian soldiers storming the heights toward victory. In addition to the Nazi flags which are clearly visible in the picture there are curfew notices, occupation money, special passes, printed civilian warnings and captured German military equipment.

Davey Re-elected Liberal President

H. W. Davey has been re-elected president of Victoria Liberal Association by mailed ballot, and will be installed at the association's annual meeting in Liberal headquarters next Thursday evening.

Also re-elected are C. M. Parrott, vice-president; A. H. Cox, secretary, and Earl Pollock, treasurer.

Following business at the annual meeting, addresses will be given by Premier John Hart, R. W. Mayhew, M.P.; Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., and W. J. Straith, K.C., M.L.A.

Nomination for officers closed Wednesday.

Seaweed in Gulf May Be Valuable

Seaweed, growing twice as large as any reported elsewhere, has been found in the last two months in the Gulf of Georgia. It was reported today at the Parliament Buildings by the B.C. Industrial and Scientific Research Council.

Seaweed—gracilaria—has a high commercial value, as it is a source of agar, an important food and medicinal product.

The council also announced research of charcoal properties of softwoods in the Zeballos Valley has been completed and a report is being prepared.

A survey of existing research facilities in the province will be made immediately by the council. At the same time the council plans to extend contact with individual B.C. industries.

It is expected the proposed survey will indicate how existing facilities can be used to undertake research for industry and how the council can best serve the province at the present time. Eventually it is the aim of the council to establish central laboratories in a co-ordinated plan to supplement existing facilities of their own with a nucleus staff which will be able to carry on a cost basis.

All dairymen in the province are now receiving a pamphlet containing practical suggestions that may help to prevent the spread of mastitis—a dairy cattle disease causing heavy financial losses each year. This pamphlet is being distributed by milk distributors and veterinarians.

New B.C. Companies

New companies registered under the Companies Act at the Parliament Buildings this week include the following:

Handling Equipment Ltd., $10,000; Welwood Ltd., $10,000; Martann Hotel Ltd., $100,000; Gifford Shipyards Ltd., $10,000; Scientific Instrument Laboratories Ltd., $10,000; Burrard Motors Ltd., $10,000; Nihota Ltd., $250,000; United Film Studios Ltd., 100 shares N.P.V.; Associated Furniture and Appliance Agencies Ltd., $10,000; Britannia Agencies Ltd., $10,000; Fox Holdings Ltd., $10,000; Ray Hearn Ltd., $20,000—all of Vancouver.

Inviting Roosevelt?

LONDON (CP)—A Foreign Office spokesman, when asked to say whether Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden would be accompanied to Paris by any other officials, replied: "No, unless President Roosevelt goes along."

Saturday being Remembrance Day and a provincial holiday, the Victoria public library will be closed all day.

Ask Fortin Report On Greater Victoria Financial Set-up

The next step in Greater Victoria amalgamation negotiations will await a letter from Jules Fortin, financial expert who co-ordinated the city's refunding plan of eight years ago, Mayor Andrew McGavin said today.

Mr. Fortin, he explained, had been in touch with the city during a recent visit to the west, but had been unable to come to Victoria owing to the pressure of other business. In communications since then he had stated his intention of drafting a picture of the Greater Victoria financial set-up which might facilitate the merger, the mayor said.

"As soon as we hear from Mr. Fortin, we'll call a meeting with the reeves to discuss the matter," Mayor McGavin added.

Opinion of Mr. Fortin on the plan has been sought as the result of recommendations from E. W. Ismay, auditor for the municipalities and the city, the mayor said.

Camera Club Meets

The B.C. Civil Service Camera Club met Wednesday to complete arrangements with the Y.M.C.A. for new quarters for the club.

This group has been occupying quarters in the police school on Burrard Avenue but membership has grown to such an extent that larger quarters are necessary.

The secretary will communicate with the Victoria Photographic Association inviting it to join with the B.C. Civil Service Camera Club in the formation of a new and stronger organization.

The regular monthly print competition was held, first and second honors going to J. Tyzack with "Derelict" and "Homebound," respectively. Miss Marcia Prior was third with "What Am I Of-fored?"

The home of A. S. Drumond, 1717 Hollywood Crescent, was entered via a kitchen window Wednesday night and searched but nothing was reported missing.

Rena Tremblay, 975 North Park, told city police early today her wallet had been stolen from the Lewis Dance Hall. She said it contained $5 in cash.

Three air force men were reported to have thrown a piece of wood through a window at 621 Chatham.

Gates were reported stolen from 332 Vancouver, 225 Vancouver and 522 Rupert.

Army Men's Views Clash On Premier's Reinforcement Talk

"For the sake of peace in Canada we should support the government in its present stand," said Lt.-Gen. E. C. Ashton, former chief of staff, in expressing an opinion to the radio talk by Premier Mackenzie King Wednesday evening on "Support for the Canadian Army Overseas."

NO EXTREME SHORTAGE

"There doesn't seem to be any extreme shortage at the moment," Lt.-Gen. Ashton continued. "Those who know feel they can catch up on any existing shortage. We have a government, and it has said what it is going to do. If the scheme doesn't work out men will be forced to go overseas. In the meantime we should support the government."

Rev. George Biddle, who came home from the first World War as a staff-sergeant of the 31st Alberta Regiment and who is now padre of the 36th Ack-Ack Brigade (Reserve), thought the volunteer system should be given a further trial.

"There should have been total conscription in the beginning," Mr. Biddle said, "but I admit that Gen. McNaughton has something with regard to volunteers. In the last war conscripts were treated with disrespect when they arrived in the line to serve with volunteers. Our present problem concerns sending pressed men to serve with free men. I believe the home defence men would prove good fighters and would have done so long ago had total conscription been brought in. It remains to be seen if they will volunteer, as Mr. King has suggested. We should wait and see."

"The Prime Minister is in a hole and doesn't know how to get out of it," commented Brig. J. Sutherland Brown.

RALSTON KNEW SITUATION

"He knows the whole thing is a rotten mess. Ralston told him what the situation is and Ralston was over there to see for himself."

The former commander of Military District 11 said the situation was unfair to the gallant men who have gone overseas to offer their lives and to the "decent people" of this country whose sons and other relatives have gone.

RED CHEVRONS FOR CONSCRIPTION

"In his entire speech, Mr. King gave no explanation why the mandate of the Canadian people given at the last election was not carried out," said Col. Ross Napier. "At the Red Chevron Association meeting Wednesday night strong statements were made in favor of total conscription. The speech was what I anticipated. No real mention was made of the fact that the present reinforcement situation was created by failure to enforce total conscription."

CONSCRIPTION FARCE

"McNaughton," Col. Napier continued, "has said compulsory service was not a success in the last war. I came in close touch with its enforcement, and I know the military service act was a complete farce until after Allied reverses in 1918. Then steps were taken to see that it was put into force. After being run by the Department of Justice it was handed over to the Militia Department in June, 1918. I had just returned on a hospital ship from overseas and I assumed duties with the Militia Department. The act was enforced all right, but by then there was little time, only five months, to prove its success."

Col. Napier pointed out that a motion reaffirming its stand favoring conscription for service overseas was passed by members of the Red Chevron Association of Vancouver Island at their annual meeting, Wednesday.

The resolution was worded: "that this organization reaffirm its stand in favor of conscription for overseas service, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the proper authorities in Canada."

A resolution was also passed concerning government cessation of the training of several thousand young men in the R.C.A.F., "who will probably be expected to reinforce the army overseas, in spite of the fact that we have those reinforcements here in the Home Defence Army."

"We are very disappointed in Mr. King's speech," said M. W. Fraser, secretary 31st Alberta Battalion Association. "We do not think it will be acceptable to the people of Canada. The volunteer system must be broken down, otherwise why would Ralston have resigned?"

A motorist, pleading guilty to a charge of exceeding the Dominion 40-mile-an-hour speed limit, was fined $15 and $2.50 costs in provincial court Wednesday afternoon. Another driver, guilty of operating his car without a driver's license, paid a $5 fine and $2.50 costs.

Yanks Run Into Stiff Opposition On Leyte Island

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES (AP, Via Army Radio)—Weather-beaten U.S. troops, their lines spread thin and their supplies bogged down, are fighting extremely tough Japanese opposition and a 100-mile-an-hour typhoon in the battle for the road to Ormoc today.

Elements of four Japanese divisions, including the crack 1st, are making the U.S. forces pay dearly for every ridge in the Pinamopan area.

Only a trickle of supplies is reaching the Yanks because of roads made impassable by the storm, while many advance units are considering their ammunition and in some cases going without food.

Maj. Gen. Irving, 24th Division commander, told Fred Hampson, Associated Press war correspondent with the 24th, he was convinced a heavy Japanese concentration is across his front and that it will take a powerful assault to clear it out.

Still indecisive, the battle centered in ridges abutting a horse-shoe bend, with the tiny village of Limon as its focal point. Neither side claimed victory.

Front line dispatches mentioned the use of Japanese heavy artillery for the first time in several days. U.S. artillery continued to batter the Japanese communication lines which feed forces now locked in the Ormoc road fight.

Aerial warfare was brought to a standstill by the hurricane, but before it struck, U.S. fighters had swarmed above the Japanese supply and bivouac areas on the Ormoc plateau and continued their offensives against other targets on islands adjacent to Leyte. Seven enemy planes were shot down.

Monthly meeting of the Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society will be held at the City Hall Thursday night at 8. The secretary will give a financial report of the recent show.

Come on Victoria!

75 More Soldiers Join in Search For Missing Hunter

LAKE COWICHAN (Special)
—With 75 soldiers from Camp Nanaimo joining in the search today for LAC. Les Heal, missing since Sunday in the heavily wooded Camp 10 area here, experienced woodsmen held out hope that the 26-year-old deer hunter had not met with serious accident but was still wandering around in the woods.

In the most intensive search so far more than 200 persons were taking part today. They include also soldiers from Camp Colwood and airmen from Patricia Bay, as well as Militia Rangers, loggers, relatives and friends of the missing man.

The search today was hampered by swollen creeks, but fine weather made going easier for the parties who Wednesday met with heavy rain and drenched undergrowth.

Woodsmen said the chances that Heal was lost and not injured were good since he was first missed after 1.30 in the afternoon. This would give him about four hours of daylight in which he may have wandered a considerable distance.

Comparing this case with that of Kenneth Duncan, young Victoria chinyard worker who was lost in the Eagle Heights area at Shawigan Lake last fall, and of whom no trace was ever found, persons who have taken part in 50th searches said there were less hunters in the Camp 10 area when Heal was missed and therefore the chances of him having been shot in mistake for a deer were less.

Duncan was missed about half an hour before sundown so it is felt he could not have wandered very far.

Duncan, too, was lost in an area shaped very much like a bowl, so searchers ultimately concluded that he was injured.

The area in which Heal is lost,
however, is such that it would be quite possible for him to wander further into the woods instead of out of them. Heal also is said to have had more hunting experience and to be somewhat familiar with the area in which he is lost, having hunted there once before.

He was described by relatives
as a man who was extremely careful in the bush and who did not take chances.

The searchers today, under the direction of Cpl. John Henry of the B.C. Police detachment at Duncan, and Constable Andrew Grant were broken up into pas-sies which thoroughly combed specific areas plotted on a master map.

No word had been received at noon today of a party of loggers which Wednesday morning left Port Renfrew on the west coast of the island for Cowichan Lake via the Harris Trail. Headquarters of the search have failed to contact another party of six searchers who left the Lake Cowichan end of the trail to meet the Port Renfrew party.

It is also felt possible that Heal may have reached the trail from Camp 6, further up the lake, which runs through to the Niti-nat Lake area on the west coast.

Jade is a gem stone of high value. Gems made of it can be set in rings, or an entire ring may be made from it.

Thousands of years ago the Lake Dwellers of Switzerland made use of jade. They cut the mineral into shape for ax heads.
Even at the present time, jade is mined in Switzerland, and in a few other countries of Europe.
No one uses it nowadays, however, for making the blades of axes!

Records show that the Aztecs of Mexico looked on jade as having high value. The Aztec emperor gave Cortez two pieces of jade, and we are told that he thought these pieces were worth hundreds of pounds of gold.

Yet the place where jade has found the greatest favor is China.
For more than 2,000 years the Chinese have been carving it into beads, vases, bowls, statues and other objects. They have used several colors of jade besides green and white, including red and yellow.

The jade statues of China are one which had to be repeated, was the Cossack war song, "The Song of General Platoff," the Russian hero of 100 years ago, whose name the chorus bears.

Encores were a striking setting of "Dark Eyes" and the "Laughing Polka," a scintillating chorus with pantomime that brought gales of laughter. This also had to be repeated.

Two dances were included, the "Lezginka," a Caucasian Cossack dance, a breath-taking spectacle done with knives, danced brilliantly by G. Soloduhin, and the popular Cossack dance, "Kozakchok," in which the perfectly-disciplined body of Volodia Lazarev whirled and leapt with dazzling speed. He was followed by various members of the chorus in a gay, impromptu Russian Pas-de-Ballet.

Don Cossacks Given
Rousing Reception

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON
A thoroughly-roused audience sent up a storm of applause, Wednesday night, at the close of the brilliant program by the General Platoff Don Cossacks at the Royal Victoria Theatre. In spite of all that has been written and said of this unique group, words seem inadequate to describe their qualities and the power they have to stir mind and heart of their listeners. Under the direction of Nicholas Kostukoff, they exhibited magnificent control and range, from the rich, full-bodied tone of a great organ to the most delicate pianissimo, from gravity to comedy, from stirring war song to lyric romance.

The first part of the program was devoted to songs of the Russian church and concluded with an arrangement for chorus of Mallott's well-known setting of "The Lord's Prayer," the only number sung in English. The organ-like quality of one was most noticeable in the sustained, legato singing of this group. As a special request they added the atmospheric "Evening Bells," with M. Dedovitch as tenor soloist.

Galitzky's aria from "Prince Igor" (Borodin) was stirringly dramatic, with S. Slepoushkin as bass-baritone soloist. It was one of the favorites, along with "Snow Over Russia," in which the lovely tenor voice of V. Mamontoff was heard. A feature, and

Dominion Showing Action-Packed Hit

Revealing the thrilling saga of the strangest course a ship ever sailed... the strangest venture fighting men ever dared, "Wing and Prayer—The Story of Carrier X," opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

Famed Hit Story Featured at Atlas

Another great story has been made into an outstanding picture, according to "rave" advance reports received on "Home in Indiana," 20th Century-Fox's new technicolor film based on the Saturday Evening Post story, "The Phantom Filly," by George Agnew Chamberlain. "Home in Indiana" comes to the Atlas Theatre today. The featured cast of the film includes Walter Brennan, Lon McCallister, Jeanne Crain, Charlotte Greenwood and June Haver.

'Stagecoach' Comes To York Theatre

A chapter out of the making of the west was brought to life today when Walter Wanger's "Stagecoach" opened at the York Theatre through United Artists release. This epic of frontier life and courage concerns the adventures of a band of men and women in the days when the American west was young. The production co-stars Claire Trevor and John Wayne, with prominent roles played by Thomas Mitchell, George Bancroft, Andy Devine, Louise Platt, Donald Meek and John Carradine.

The period is 1885 and the picture opens as the Overland Stage is about to leave Tonto, Arizona, for Lordsburg, New Mexico.

Red Headed Texan Bright New Star

Red-haired Anne Gwynne, one of the season's most rapidly advancing starlets, plays the feminine lead in Universal's new musical comedy, "Jail House Blues," now screening at the Rio Theatre.

Anne, who comes from Waco, Texas, appears opposite Robert Paige, young singing actor, in a cast that includes Nat Pendleton, Horace MacMahon, Elisabeth Risdon, Samuel S. Hinds, Warren Hymer and others.

PLAZA THEATRE

In "Song of the Open Road," now at the Plaza Theatre, Charlie McCarthy proves to Edgar Bergen that any one can be a ventriloquist. His dummy, called Junior, is a cute replica of Charlie in miniature form, and apes his senior by taking an instant dislike to W. C. Fields, long-standing enemy of Charlie, who plays a leading role in the film.

'New Pride In Canada' Learned On Battlefronts

Canadian soldiers have a fine sense of individual responsibility — it is that individualism which is so striking and impressive, Matthew Halton, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation war correspondent told meetings of the men's and women's Canadian clubs at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

Mr. Halton spoke in the interests of Canada's 7th Victory Loan and the two different audiences which twice filled the ballroom to overflowing, hung to every word of his gripping story, gave him ringing applause and three cheers. The noted correspondent, author of a current best seller "Ten Years to Alamein," told of his personal experiences with Canadian soldiers in the front line. He recalled how he had seen soldiers fall mortally wounded while their comrades marched on through wheatfields, like iron men, like machines, like robots.

Applause rang out when Mr. Halton mentioned Victoria's own Canadian Scottish Regiment and their deeds of bravery and courage.

"I've learned a new pride in Canada," he said, as he recounted the great feats of Canadians in Italy, Belgium, Holland and France. Everywhere, he said, Canadians have been up against young Nazis "who have been nurtured and suckled on ferocity."

AS LIBERATORS

Mr. Halton told of the great welcome given the Allied armies by the people of France; how the soldiers then knew, when they saw the spirit of the French people and what they had gone through that France is not doing anything but slow in battle. He goes through at any cost.

"You should see an American convoy going down the road, 4,000 vehicles, moving at 50 miles an hour—they're doing a wonderful job of supply and the British, too, are doing a wonderful job of supply," he said.

One of the most difficult problems will be what to do with the Germans after the war, Mr. Halton said. "How are we going to change them from the fanatics the young are now? The problem is almost as difficult as what we are going to do with ourselves."

At this stage of the war, he said, "we can't relax as long as our men are doing what they are doing in Holland at this minute—we can't relax as long as this grim and cruel war is going on—"

cadent. In Caen, he said, British and Canadian guns had killed 5,000 and wounded 17,000 of the population and "we expected to be received, if not with hostility, at least with coldness." But they were received with warmth, as liberators.

Of the general war situation Mr. Halton said "it's only bad luck the war isn't won yet," adding that perhaps it would be over now if the Aachen plan had succeeded.

The British soldier, he said, sometimes looked upon as slow, is anything but slow in battle. He goes through at any cost.

WITH AMERICAN ARMY

Mr. Halton told briefly of his experiences with the American army in France. He said one old German man, standing in his doorway, had clicked his heels and given the British a salute. A teen-age girl to whom he spoke, said arrogantly, "We're going to win—Hitler has secret weapons which will paralyze the world—we'll win, but if we don't it's a second crucifixion."

One of the most difficult problems will be what to do with the Germans after the war, Mr. Halton said. "How are we going to change them from the fanatics the young are now? The problem is almost as difficult as what we are going to do with ourselves."

Captured Records Show Germans Planning Now for World War III

By CURT RIESS

Members of the German general staff, among them the highest ranking officers of the German army, began three years ago to lay plans for World War III.

During staff meetings in October and December, 1941, the generals decided the war against Russia could not be won, since the Wehrmacht had been unable to prevent the Russian army from being mobilized and deployed.

Seeing themselves frustrated in the Fuehrer in their attempt to order a general retreat, they immediately set out to prepare for a future war, on the assumption that this one would eventually be lost.

This was in the beginning of 1942, at a time when the Germans held most of Europe, were hundreds of miles inside Russia, were sinking Allied shipping at a rate of 1,000,000 tons per month and when most of the world considered Hitler all but unbeatable.

A special department in the general staff began to devote itself to making plans for a future war. It is called F.B. (Frontberetichschaft) and is headed by Lt. Gen. Hasso Schultz with Lt. Col. Richard von Kleist, cousin of Marshal von Kleist, executive secretary. Department F.B., which had branches in every occupied country in Europe, concentrated chiefly on influencing public opinion in occupied countries and in countries to be occupied.

STRATEGY CHANGED

Then, at the beginning of 1942, its goal, and necessarily its strategy, changed. Gen. Schultz was no longer interested in influencing people in the occupied countries. What he and his department were now interested in was told in a report prepared by Gen. Otto von Stuepnagel, military commander of Paris, who headed one of the branches of Department F.B., the one called F.B.F. (Frontberetichschaft Frankreich).

"This report was made in March, 1942. Later parts of it were copied by agents of the French underground, smuggled out of France and published in the French paper Combat in Algiers. Only a few weeks ago a copy of the entire report was discovered him, Stuepnagel forgot nothing. After the end of the last war he founded a league of former German officers, which in turn drew up a list of Allied officers who had committed shameful crimes."

Stuepnagel actually demanded that these Allied officers be turned over to an international court presided over by Germany.

Gen. von Stuepnagel is, of course, only one of many. He is not a typical Nazi; he is a typical German general staff officer. These officers of the general staff will be potentially much more dangerous to the peace of the world than the out-and-out Nazis.

These officers—as distinguished from the Nazi fanatics who will be outlawed and in no position to plot revenge—have kept their mouths shut. Therefore little news of their three-year-old plan has reached the outside world.
